Attendance Figures Rise At Ohio State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Can you type? You can find out how good—or how bad—you really are at the Ohio State Fair.

A new typewriter that points out errors in typing technique is on display and offered for the fairgoer to try out.

Called the Datype and manufactured by Olympia, it is like an electric typewriter except that the paper moves slowly through the machine, making each line of type run downhill.

If the typist hesitates between certain letters, the fault shows up because the second letter will be much lower than the first. The rate of typing can also be measured.

Total attendance at the fair on Thursday was 142,110 persons, officials said. That raises the total for the first eight days to the 12-day exposition to 1,517,192.

Seventeen youth organizations are showing displays at the Ohio State Fair, including Junior Achievement selling stenciled T-shirts; Camp Fire Girls, Bluebirds and Girl Scouts exhibiting their handiwork, and young people from Ohio granges.

The Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members from throughout Ohio talk on just about everything from canning to nature study throughout the day.

The Ohio Student Industrial Arts Club is displaying handmade items including trunks, wrought iron tables, a grandfather clock and a stereo cabinet.

Members of the Ohio Association of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America have samples of subjects taught in vocational schools, like medical assistanceship, cosmetology and television repair.

After looking at the displays on Friday, a fairgoer can watch Earth, Wind & Fire perform twice at the grandstand.

The eight-member soul group first hit the pop charts in 1971 with "Love is Life."

On Saturday, Bo Donaldson and the Heywoods, whose first single release "Special Someone" hit national charts for four solid months, will perform for one show at 4:30 p.m.

Then for the 8:30 p.m. show, Bob Hope, who has triumphed in vaudeville, stage, radio, motion pictures and television, will appear.

Hope, who has drawn record crowds to the state fair for five straight years from 1966 to 1970, will also perform Sunday.

At the fair Saturday, Fraternal and Service Club Day, will be a junior fair Angus show, open class national Dorset show, gourmet day contest, dairy cattle show, tea sandwiches contest, open class Yorkshire and Berkshire Show, junior fair dairy cattle show, open class Angus show basketball free throw contest, and youth rabbit show.

The Ohio Commission on Aging was presenting prominent senior citizen awards on Friday to Betty Sherbondy, Crestline; Robert Peters, Bellevue; Bertha Place, Marion; Ian Seeds, Mansfield; and Mr. and Mrs. John Hudock, Mount Gilead.

In the last day of harness racing on Thursday, Coal Smoke, a hot item on the Ohio fair circuit, made it 12 wins out of the last 13 starts when he captured the $22,750 Governor's Cup Three-Year-old Trot.

The sparkling son of B. F. Coaltown trotted to a length and a half margin over Excellent Tad in the raceoff for the winner's take of $7,166 in 2:04 3-5.

Kissinger Awaits Mideast Signing

JERUSALEM (AP) — With the new Israeli-Egyptian agreement expected to be ready for initialing Sunday or Monday, aides say Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will delay his speech to the United Nations next week so he can wrap up the agreement before leaving.

When he began his mission nine days ago, Kissinger said he intended to address the special U.N. General Assembly session on Sept. 1 or 2 and, if necessary, return to the Middle East to complete the pact.

But aides said that now that an agreement is in sight and no setbacks are anticipated, Kissinger has decided to delay his U.N. speech until next Wednesday, Sept. 3.

Kissinger held another round of talks today with the Israeli negotiating team. Informed sources said he would remain overnight before shuttling back to Alexandria for his fifth meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat during his current mission.

"We are getting down to the wire," Kissinger said Thursday in Alexandria.

The Egyptian president told newsmen he is ready to initial the pact providing for an Israeli withdrawal behind the strategic Mitla and Gidi passes in the Sinai Desert, the return of the Abu Rudeis oilfields to Egypt and electronic surveillance posts manned by American civilians along the new buffer zone between the two armies.

Although Tahseen Bashir, Sadat's spokesman, cautioned that "there are still one or two problems that await resolution," Sadat said he saw nothing that could block the agreement.

He added that there is "a good possibility" the pact would be initialed Sunday or Monday.

Diplomatic sources disclosed several important provisions of the tentative draft pertaining to Israel's commerce.

One clause provides for Egypt and Israel to recognize the Bab el Mandeb strait at the southern end of the Red Sea as an international waterway. This in effect would pledge Egypt not to interfere with shipping passing through the strait to Elat, Israel's southern port, including Iranian oil.

Egypt also will agree to allow Israeli cargo to pass through the Suez Canal, and the semiofficial Israeli state radio said cargo for Israel may begin moving through the waterway before the pact is signed.

The Palestine Liberation Organization announced in Beirut that it had formed a commission to plan ways of sabotaging the agreement, which it called a "dangerous American plot." Four Israeli jets on Thursday attacked a Palestinian refugee camp near the Lebanese port of Tyre, a guerrilla training site nearby and a Mediterranean pier used by guerrillas. Reports from Lebanon said three persons were killed and two were wounded.

About 15,000 Israeli opponents of the agreement jammed the square in front

Natural Gas Outlook Grim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, predicting that natural gas shortages could be 30 per cent greater this winter than last, says the nation can squeeze through without major economic damage if there is strong cooperation from Congress and the public.

Federal Energy Administration officials told President Ford and 16 governors who met him on Thursday that natural gas supplies may fall 15 or 16 per cent short of demand this winter on the average, with much worse shortages concentrated in some eastern states.

Meanwhile, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford still intends to veto a bill extending price controls on domestic oil despite a plea by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield that he sign it.

Mansfield, who was to meet with Ford today, will try to convince Ford that Congress will pass a compromise acceptable to the White House within 30 to 45 days if the price control extension becomes law, according to a Mansfield aide. The controls expire at midnight Sunday. Nessen said Ford plans to veto the bill after Labor Day.

During Thursday's meetings on natural gas, FEA officials said the shortages could be alleviated through two strategies on which the administration and the governors agreed:

—Energy conservation efforts to cut down waste of natural gas and to free supplies of alternative petroleum fuels.

—Congressional action to restore the Federal Power Commission's authority, previously invalidated by a court, to allow 180-day exemptions from FPC price rules for temporary sales of natural gas.

This would allow interstate pipelines to pay more than the 52 cents per thousand cubic feet now permitted by the FPC for purchases of natural gas from producers, and to compete for supplies of gas now sold within the producing state at prices — free of FPC regulation — ranging from one to two dollars per thousand cubic feet.

Meanwhile, the FPC itself took a step in the same direction Thursday by authorizing high-priority industrial users of natural gas to make direct purchases from gas producers at unregulated prices, again enabling them to compete for supplies in the intrastate markets.

The Ford administration and the FPC itself have already asked Congress to end FPC regulation of producer-prices of new natural gas supplies, permanently.

But 12 of the governors who visited Ford Thursday added a new twist by proposing that this "deregulation" be initially limited to five years, to test the theory that higher new-gas prices would encourage greater exploration, development and production.

They got no commitment from Ford, but officials said this was the first time the administration had heard the five-year proposal and that it would be considered. The FEA said Ford would soon announce his own proposals for dealing with impending natural gas shortages.

The FFA said the U.S. natural gas shortage will probably add another notch to inflation by forcing some industries to switch from gas to more costly oil and to pass the extra cost along to their customers.

Electric utilities and industries which burn natural gas will be hardest hit by the expected shortages, the FEA said.

It said the shortages of natural gas would be most severe in the middle Atlantic states from southern New York to South Carolina and in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said he was "encouraged" that the Ford Administration intends to open interstate pipelines for movement of natural gas within the states and to spend more money exploring for shale gas and developing techniques for removing it from rock formations.

"If we could do that today, it would solve our problems," Rhodes said afterward. He said he told Ford: "Give us the pipeline and we'll get the gas."

The three-month study report concluded that with local area adjustment and gas distribution in normal weather conditions, Ohio "will be able to manage the gas shortage through next winter with only minor direct economic impacts."

Some central Kentucky industries and businesses would be affected severely by a threatened 100 per cent gas curtailment. "It appears that other areas of the state will get through the winter without severe problems," however, the report said. Zarb projected that Ohio will receive 9 per cent less natural gas this year than last. Kentucky will get about 4 per cent less.

However, industrial supplies may be cut 60 per cent in Ohio and as high as (Continued on Page 2)

Appeal Of KSU Verdict Scheduled In 30-60 Days

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An appeals court still might correct "the incredible miscarriage of justice" that denied damages to victims of the 1970 Kent State University shootings, a former Scranton Commission member says.

"If this were a car accident there isn't a jury in the world that wouldn't have awarded damages," said James B. Ahern.

Ahern, who studied campus unrest as part of the presidential commission named for former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, commented after a federal jury absolved Ohio officials and National Guardsmen on Wednesday of liability for the shootings.

The former New Haven, Conn., police chief was the victims' last witness in the $46 million damages trial that ended Wednesday.

He said guardsmen should not have carried loaded rifles on their crowd-control mission May 4, 1970.

The troops opened fire during an attempt to break up a campus antiwar rally, killing four students and wounding nine.

The survivors and families of the dead brought the suit.

As soon as the verdicts were read, the victims' lead attorney, Joseph Kelner, announced "the last day of the Kent trial has not occurred." He said he would file notice of appeal with the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in 30 to 60 days.

John P. Adams, a representative of the United Methodist Church's Board of Church and Society, said his church's Kent State Due Process of Law Fund would help pay for the appeal. The fund paid $235,000 in expenses for plaintiffs' legal work in the damages trial.

Ahern testified that guardsmen should not have dealt with the May 4th rally on the basis of the three nights of rioting that preceded the assembly. "You don't visit the sins of one crowd on another," he reasoned.

But U.S. District Court Judge Don J. Young ruled early in the trial the defense could explore events of the weekend preceding the shootings to show what might have been in the guardsmen's minds.

At the same time, the judge blocked the victims' lawyers attempt to probe reports of a guard coverup after the shootings, ruling events after the incident were irrelevant.

Kelner said the appeal would show that guard Capt. Ronald J. Snyder lied to coverup misconduct in connection with the shootings and the attorney lashed out at the 65-year-old Toledo judge for rulings Kelner said "made a mockery" of the impartiality of American justice.

"I don't think the whole story has been told," Kelner said in an interview. "But I think the evidence we did get in was overwhelmingly in our favor."

The judge would not comment on matters pertaining to an appeal, but one of the two lead lawyers for the defendants scoffed at Kelner's hopes for vindication in higher courts.

Charles Brown, attorney for the defense, said the question in the Kent case was one of fact, not law and that juries decide issues of fact. He said no panel of judges would likely toss out the conclusion of a jury which heard 15 weeks of testimony and deliberated four days.

Officials say government spending cannot hope to plug the estimated $11 billion export slump this year caused by the world trade recession.

This is regarded as the chief cause of West Germany's economic woes, but the government expects the U.S. and Japanese economies to lead a worldwide recovery wave late this year.

Inflation is no immediate problem since the annual rate of price rises is steady at an enviable 6.2 per cent, Western Europe's lowest. But the government budget is strained by high deficit spending aimed at keeping the economy and employment going.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a slackening of upward pressure on interest rates carried the stock market to another broad gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 3.52 at 832.99, and gainers outpaced losers by about a 4-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers reported enthusiasm over a continued pullback in yields on Treasury bills and some other key sectors of the credit markets amid hopes that Federal Reserve policies in the months ahead would be less restrictive than had earlier been feared.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .57 to 86.39.

The Dow was up more than 6 points at its best level early in the session before some profit taking set in after the 26-point advance of the two previous sessions.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks picked up .19 to 46.18.

100 per cent in parts of Kentucky.

The areas of Ohio expected to be most affected by cutbacks are Toledo in the northwest, Columbus in the central part of the state and the southwest cities of Dayton "and to a lesser extent, Cincinnati," the report said.

Central Kentucky, served by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, faces a 28 per cent industrial cutback which may cause the state to completely curtail supplies to some of its industries and reduce large commercial users 40 per cent.

The governors recommended to

Ford that a comprehensive national energy policy be developed giving the states a significant role; use of interstate pipelines be permitted for interstate movement of natural gas; a five-year moratorium on federal regulations of new gas; increased energy conservation and conversion away from natural gas.

Ohio industries that will be hit hardest are those unable to convert to other fuels. These are primarily metals, stone, clay and glass industries which employ about 6.8 per cent of the state's work force, the report said.

Hostages Freed; Officer's Son Held

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — There was relief for two parents whose toddlers were held hostage by a suspect in a bank holdup. But for Sylvester Young, a veteran homicide detective, the pain is beginning anew.

Sylvester Young Jr., 36, an ex-convict out of prison less than a year, is back in jail as a suspect in the holdup.

The detective, summoned to an east side residential neighborhood early Thursday, found himself involved in one of the most unusual and traumatic assignments in his 23 years on the force.

There had been a bank holdup — $60,000 was taken — and police had traced the getaway vehicle to a home where two little girls, aged 19 months and 2 years, were taken hostage.

Young got on a telephone in a nearby residence and called the house which, in short time, was under siege by more than 100 heavily armed policemen supported by an armored tactical vehicle.

He talked with his son. "Many, many phone calls took place," Police Chief Joseph D. McNamara said later.

Sylvester Young asked his son to let the children go.

Similar pleas were made on the telephone by one of the mothers, by Michael Young, another son of the detective, and by McNamara. The police chief quoted Sylvester Young Jr. as saying he did not want to return to prison.

After nearly two hours of telephone conversations, the front door of the house opened and the children — Tamika Figures, 2, daughter of Jewel Figures, and Nekeidra Figures, 19 months, daughter of Florence Figures — walked past a phalanx of police officers to safety. The two girls are cousins.

The telephone conversations resumed, the man in the house indicating his hopelessness about life again behind bars. In 1962 he had been sentenced for theft and robbery and had been released just last September.

Finally it was agreed that detective Young and his other son would approach the house. Police guns trained on the house backing them up as they walked down the sidewalk, but the veteran cop motioned them back.

The Youngs stood before the house and Sylvester Jr., stepped out, his fingers interlocked behind his neck. He joined his family and they were whisked from the scene in a patrol car.

Policemen Hostages For Hour

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A 28-year-old man who said he "wanted to do something dramatic" to register a complaint surrendered today after holding two police officers hostage at a local police station for more than an hour, officers said.

Police said Robert Krista, of Oakley, told them he had a domestic complaint about his wife and a police officer.

Krista reportedly walked into the District Six police station at about 6:15 a.m. armed with a 16 gauge shotgun and took two police officers hostage, police said.

The area around the police station was immediately cordoned off, SWAT teams were moved into position around the station, and morning traffic was diverted away from the area, authorities reported.

Capt. Donald Slaughter of District Six, said Krista surrendered without a struggle after his wife was brought to the scene.

No shots were fired, police said. Slaughter said that Krista told him he felt he had made his point and his complaint had been registered.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a slackening of upward pressure on interest rates carried the stock market to another broad gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 3.52 at 832.99, and gainers outpaced losers by about a 4-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers reported enthusiasm over a continued pullback in yields on Treasury bills and some other key sectors of the credit markets amid hopes that Federal Reserve policies in the months ahead would be less restrictive than had earlier been feared.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .57 to 86.39.

The Dow was up more than 6 points at its best level early in the session before some profit taking set in after the 26-point advance of the two previous sessions.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks picked up .19 to 46.18.

On Books And Activities At The Library

The last long weekend of the summer is upon us. Since the library will be closed on Monday for the Labor Day holiday, be sure to pick up your reading material by 5 p.m. on Saturday. There's lots of good material to choose from.

Helen Van Slyke has penned a sequel to her novel "The Heart Listens". The child of the mixed marriage in the earlier novel is the leading character in "The Mixed Blessing." Grown up Toni lives a story of both human strengths and frailties.

"A World Full Of Strangers" by Cynthia Freeman is a powerful novel about a Jewish family and its search for identity and the American dream following WW II. It's about a man who stopped being a Jew and his wife and his son who wanted to hold on to their heritage.

Ernest Raymond was one of England's most prolific writers. "The City And The Dream" is the tale of a poor English clerk who dreams of wealth gained from writing a book. Romance, disappointment, and renewed hope all play a part in the life of Kerry Betterkin.

"Green, Green My Valley Now" is the title of Richard Llewellyn's new book about Huw Morgan and his native Wales. If you enjoyed "How Green Was My Valley" several years ago, you'll want to read about Huw's return home.

It was to be expected that CIA stories would be popular now. "Dragons At The Gate" by Robert Duncan is a tense story of international intrigue. Set in Tokyo, it's an education in the art of doublecross.

A chase by the CIA and the KGB, mixed identities, and a traitor are the ingredients of another suspense novel by Geoffrey Household. It's called "Red Anger."

Top storyteller Alistair MacLean gets in on the CIA act with "Circus." Espionage and suspense are set against the background of an American circus.

A new gothic by Rona Randall is set in the haunting and mysterious Scottish Highlands. "Watchman's Stone" contains all the sinister forces necessary to keep a gothic reader on the edge of the chair.

Followers of Maigret are in for a new treat in Georges Simenon's latest who dunnit title. It's "Maigret And The Man On The Bench."

Science fiction readers have two new titles to choose from: "Under A Calculating Star" by John Morressy; "The Early Williamson" by Jack Williamson.

Non-fiction has several interesting new titles this week. If you're interested in automotive mechanics and engines, look for: "Automotive Mechanics" by William H. Crouse; "What About The Wankel Engine" by Scott Corbett. You might also want to read the inside story of big time auto racing in "Indy 500 Mechanic" by Brawner and Scalzo.

Gun collectors will find "The Collecting Of Guns" edited by James Serven both interesting and informative.

Arc welding and tv servicing are represented by "New Lessons In Arc Welding" from the Lincoln Electric Company and "Basic Television: Principles and Servicing" by Bernard Grob.

For the workers in wood, we have: "Bench Woodwork" by Feirer; "Wood Technology" by Baker and Yeager; "Advanced Woodwork and Furniture Making" by Feirer and Hutchings; "Woodwork: A Basic Manual" by Teller.

"America's Birthday" by Peoples Bicentennial Commission is a new planning and activity guide for citizen's participation during the Bicentennial years.

Children Taken From Parents

EAST GARY, Ind. (AP) — Seven children have been taken from their parents here after their brother and sister died of malnutrition and dehydration, the Lake County Welfare Department said Thursday.

A department investigator said the children were found in a rat-infested home that was the scene of a fire earlier in the week.

The dead children were identified as Martin Humphrey, 10, and his 8-year-old sister, Joyce. They died a few hours apart in St. Mary hospital in Hobart. Twin 11-year-old brothers, Pat and Olive, were listed in fair condition at the hospital.

"The American Civil War" by Peter Parish is a new volume of some length. It should appeal to history buffs of that era.

For the women, Shana Alexander has published "Women's Legal Rights." It's a state-by-state guide on matters of legal question.

A new plan to get you into shape in a minimum amount of time is "Total Fitness In 30 Minutes A Week" by Morehouse and Gross.

"Tin Pan Alley" by Ian Whitcomb can add fun to your holiday. Try an old fashioned song fest with some of the 40 songs in it.

"Edward VIII" by Frances Donaldson is a definitive, full-length portrait of one of the century's most complex and fascinating figures.

The 1972 Olympics will be remembered most for the massacre of the Israeli athletes. "The Blood Of Israel" by Serge Groussard tells the tragic story.

If the adventures of Thor Heyerdahl thrill you, "Fatu-Hiva" will be sure to please. It's the story of the year this twentieth-century Robinson Crusoe and his bride spent in the primitive Marquesas Islands.

Remember, the library will closed on Monday, September 1st but it's business as usual 9-6 on September 2nd.

Akron Man Hits Jackpot In Lottery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — After buying 10 regular lottery tickets every week and two Lucky Buck tickets, Walter J. Moore of Akron has finally hit the jackpot.

Moore, 69, won the $300,000 prize in the Ohio Lottery's Buckeye 300 game Thursday.

The winner said he has been a wrestling promoter for 33 years and added he was the one who convinced wrestler "Gorgeous George" to color his hair white.

The lottery's $300,000 prize went to W. Earl Phillips of Cincinnati. The four $15,000 prize winners were Frank J. Schram of Pittsburgh, Vernon Sandlin of Middletown, Nadina N. Hard of Grove City and Mary Williams of Cleveland.

Special drawings also were held Thursday to determine winners of the Lucky Buck game. Lila M. Lumpkin of Garfield Heights won the $150,000 prize; James Stewart of Cleveland, $75,000; Cindy J. Sechick of Parma Heights, $50,000; Joseph J. Goscinski of Avon, $30,000 and Lloyd O. Smit of Dayton, $25,000.

Five other finalists won $10,000 each. They were Tony Susi Jr. of Columbus; Robert L. O'Rourke and Elsie V. Harholes of Brookpark, who shared their ticket; Harold Jewell of Amherst; Richard J. Hoy of North Canton and Mamie Perhowski of Brooklyn.

Convict Man Of Slayings

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — A jury of eight women and four men has found Robert Paul Sander guilty of four counts of first-degree murder in the March 20 sniper shootings at a Northern California motel-restaurant.

The verdicts came late Thursday after a day of deliberation. But because one juror fell ill, deliberation on a fifth charge of first-degree murder was delayed until today.

The 24-year-old former employee of a Cincinnati department store had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the charges.

He could face death in California's gas chamber.

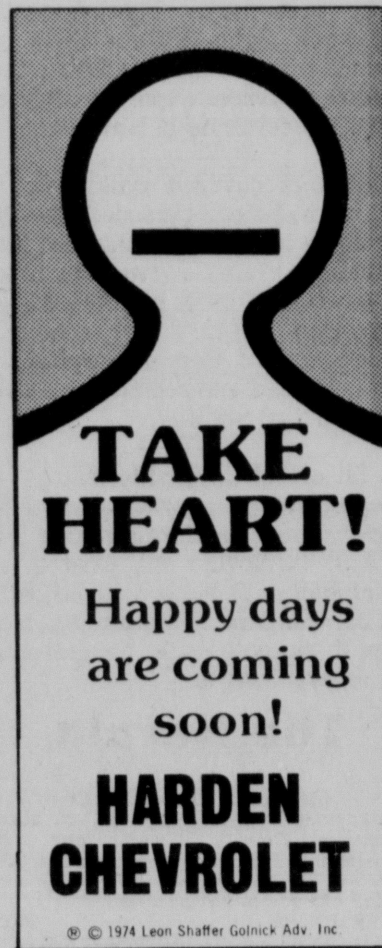

Sander, a very thin, pale man with a full beard, remained seated extremely upright and stoic when the verdicts were announced. The only detectable body movement was in his eyes.

He is to be tried again, starting next week, to determine if he was sane at the time of the slayings at the Ship Ashore motel-restaurant at Smith River. If found sane, he will face a third proceeding to determine a penalty.

Sander was also found guilty by the jury of a burglary charge and five assault charges.

Forest Service Faces Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service is at what may be the most important juncture in its history.

A U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled against the service in a way that its chief says could radically alter the agency's timber program, source of 25 per cent of the lumber used each year in the United States.

And early this year it was already at work on a major blueprint for Forestry's future when the Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Planning Act became effective.

In the next few weeks, the agency must decide whether to take the court case against "clear-cutting" practices to the Supreme Court or, as the appellate decision suggests, to Congress.

Clearcutting is the practice wherein designated areas of the forest are cleaned away rather than marking individual mature trees for harvesting.

See Encephalitis In Boy's Death

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Viral encephalitis is suspected as the cause of death of a 12-year-old Ohio boy, a spokesman for St. Joseph's hospital said Thursday.

James Clifton Jr. of Hicksville died Wednesday in the hospital. The spokesman said further tests would be conducted to verify a preliminary diagnosis that death resulted from the mosquito-carried disease known as sleeping sickness.

The court said an 1897 statute prohibits timber cutting except when individual dead or mature trees are specifically designated for felling.

Timber sales in Virginia, West Virginia and the Carolinas were suspended Thursday until that decision is made.

It also has scheduled 15 hearings over six days next month in 14 cities from Atlanta to Anchorage to seek direct public comment on the documents that the resources act's procedures have produced so far:

—A 129-page summary of the lot; —A 386-page draft inventory and assessment of the resources of the two-thirds of the United States that is forest or rangeland;

—Some 624 pages encompassing eight alternative programs for management of those resources, public and private, under the act. They are supposed to be available at Forest Service offices. Legally required environmental impact statements also are there for analysis.

The agency projects both supply and demand now and in 2020 for trees, minerals, bike paths, birdwatching areas, water and access to it, fish, wild game, boating, and human and community development.

That gets into population and personal income and therefore the economy and the energy questions: the quality of American life.

To make the assessment and draft the programs, the Forest Service had to assess itself and the competing demands for the 155 National Forests and 19 National Grasslands' bounty.

The result is a 44-year plan in 5-and-10-year stages for each of eight alternative programs that encompass just about everything natural in the nation and human responses to it.

Public comment on this stage closes Oct. 15.

Hearings are set Sept. 16 in Washington; Sept. 17 in Boston, Houston and San Francisco; Sept. 18 in San Francisco, Missoula, Mont., Denver, Phoenix, Salt Lake City, Chicago and Anchorage; Sept. 19 in Fort Snelling, Minn., and Atlanta; Sept. 23 in Portland, Ore., and Sept. 26 in Memphis.

Akron Man Hits Jackpot In Lottery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — After buying 10 regular lottery tickets every week and two Lucky Buck tickets, Walter J. Moore of Akron has finally hit the jackpot.

Moore, 69, won the $300,000 prize in the Ohio Lottery's Buckeye 300 game Thursday.

The winner said he has been a wrestling promoter for 33 years and added he was the one who convinced wrestler "Gorgeous George" to color his hair white.

The lottery's $30,000 prize went to W. Earl Phillips of Cincinnati. The four $15,000 prize winners were Frank J. Schram of Pittsburgh, Vernon Sandlin of Middletown, Nadina N. Hard of Grove City and Mary Williams of Cleveland.

Special drawings also were held Thursday to determine winners of the Lucky Buck game. Lila M. Lumpkin of Garfield Heights won the $150,000 prize; James Stewart of Cleveland, $75,000; Cindy J. Sefchick of Parma Heights, $50,000; Joseph J. Goscinski of Avon, $30,000 and Lloyd O. Smit of Dayton, $25,000.

Five other finalists won $10,000 each. They were Tony Susi Jr. of Columbus; Robert L. O'Rourke and Elsie V. Harholes of Brookpark, who shared their ticket; Harold Jewell of Amherst; Richard J. Hoy of North Canton and Mamie Perhowski of Brooklyn.

Convict Man Of Slayings

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — A jury of eight women and four men has found Robert Paul Sander guilty of four counts of first-degree murder in the March 2 sniper shootings at a Northern California motel-restaurant.

The verdicts came late Thursday after a day of deliberation. But because one juror fell ill, deliberation on a fifth charge of first-degree murder was delayed until today.

The 24-year-old former employee of a Cincinnati department store had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the charges.

He could face death in California's gas chamber.

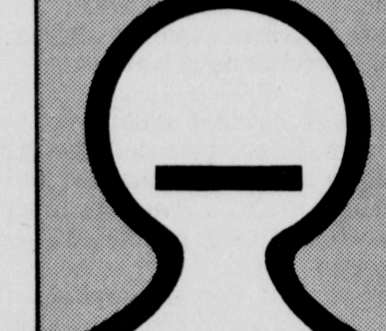

Sander, a very thin, pale man with a full beard, remained seated extremely upright and stoic when the verdicts were announced. The only detectable body movement was in his eyes.

He is to be tried again, starting next week, to determine if he was sane at the time of the slayings at the Ship Ashore motel-restaurant at Smith River. If found sane, he will face a third proceeding to determine a penalty.

Sander was also found guilty by the jury of a burglary charge and five assault charges.

Forest Service Faces Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service is at what may be the most important juncture in its history.

A U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled against the service in a way that its chief says could radically alter the agency's timber program, source of 25 per cent of the lumber used each year in the United States.

And early this year it was already at work on a major blueprint for Forestry's future when the Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Planning Act became effective.

In the next few weeks, the agency must decide whether to take the court case against "clear-cutting" practices to the Supreme Court or, as the appellate decision suggests, to Congress.

Clearcutting is the practice wherein designated areas of the forest are cleaned away rather than marking individual mature trees for harvesting.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Viral encephalitis is suspected as the cause of death of a 12-year-old Ohio boy, a spokesman for St. Joseph's hospital said Thursday.

James Clifton Jr. of Hicksville died Wednesday in the hospital. The spokesman said further tests would be conducted to verify a preliminary diagnosis that death resulted from the mosquito-carried disease known as sleeping sickness.

Back At The Same Old Stand

The so-called nonaligned nations are back at the same old stand. Hurling imprecations at the industrialized nations of the world, especially the United States, these Third World nations are busy at a meeting in Peru, cooking up mischief.

There are several proposals being readied at the meeting for presentation to the special economic session of the U.N. slated next week and at the regular session next month.

On the credit side of the

A Japanese freighter moves into Port Everglades at four knots. She brushes past the beautiful homes of Fort Lauderdale. A graying lady hurries out on her lawn and raises a meatball flag. The Japanese captain sees it and orders the officer of the deck to run aft and return the salute.

Esther Mickley salutes all ships of all registry. She is called "The Lady of the Flags." The dark crewcut giggling on the porch is Dr. Jack Mickley, a true intellectual. He has retired from everything except the luxury of thinking.

Mickley is Pennsylvania Dutch, a native of Gettysburg. He can, at will, recreate the three dolorous days of battle, or, tee-heeing like a schoolboy, dash the somber mood on the rocks of the newest joke.

He's up there in years. And he hurts a little, with emphysema and a pair of feet whose bones were shot to tatum when he was a paratrooper. But nothing blocks his power of reasoning nor his sense of humor.

Mickley was, until he quit, one of the finest pathologists America has produced. He was the detective of the microscope, looking for wild cells and hoping he wouldn't see any. He is the man who performed 10,000 autopsies in one hospital.

He was a young physician in Hollywood, Florida, when Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, an old buck with a droopy mustache, went off to Cuba to marry a bosomy lady. Immediately after the wedding, they flew to Key West and took a train north.

The Senator died in bed the first night of his marriage. The train wheezed to a stop in Hollywood. Mickley was called. He boarded the train, examined Walsh, and pronounced him dead. He lifted the ends of the mustache.

A young policeman said, "What's that for, Doc?" Mickley grinned: "I just wanted to see if he was smiling." The doctor cuts honor and honesty in thin cellophanous slices. He refuses to bargain or trade them.

Fourteen hospital department heads weighted the fate of a surgeon who had an abnormal number of post-operative bleeding cases with children. Thirteen voted to forget it. Mickley voted to suspend him from the hospital.

"Why?" they asked.

"Permit me to ask you something," Mickley said. "Some of you have children. Would you permit him to operate on your young?" They voted 14 to 0 to take the man off the role of practicing surgeons.

For several years, he had an assistant named Gayle Bishop. He taught her almost all he knew about autopsies. She hung signs in the macabre laboratory: "Some People Are Going to Have to Learn to Be Patient." "What's a Nice Girl Like You Doing in a Place Like This?"

NEW YORK (AP) — Over the long Labor Day weekend, perhaps while gazing idly at some distant mountain peaks that remind him of a Dow Jones chart, some analyst or another might find a positive trend for the stock market.

You can't find it in the news. True, the government's index of leading indicators continues to rise, but it isn't all good news. Interest rates, for instance, remain high, and that's bad for stocks.

You really can't establish a trend forecast by listening to what comes out of Washington either, because Washington isn't even agreed on what's wrong with the economy or on what steps are needed to bring an improvement.

There are few clues to be found in commentaries of Wall Street analysts, whose views range from a forecast of less than 400 points for the Dow Jones to well over 1,000 points during the next few years.

If you seek the advice of individual investors you will probably find they prefer to put their money into fixed-income savings or government securities. They want to see a trend before they commit themselves.

Seeking a guide, one is forced to look into the history of the market, to study a mountain of statistics in the manner of the ancient seers who thought they could find a pattern, a forecast, in a study of entrails.

A study of market statistics never fails to be effective in supporting your views. You can find almost anything there if you look long enough and if your imagination is attuned to the task. Sure enough, the trend is found.

"Watch what happens to stock prices during the short four-day week following Labor Day," advises Yale Hirsch, who has burrowed long and deeply into the supply of statistical information.

And yet, the doctor cannot be patient — to coin a cliché. He has written 600 pages of a fascinating autobiography, sparing no one, especially not Mickley.

"The Stock Trader's Almanac," postpone your purchases for 30 days. But, "if there's a net gain that week, buy at once, knowing the market will probably be higher 30 days later." This strategy, he maintains, "would have put you on the right side . . . in 13 of the last 14 years."

The almanac also comes up with the makings of another forecast.

"During the first 60 years of this century," it states, "the stock market in the final quarter of the year often took its cue from the market's behavior in September and followed a similar course two-thirds of the time."

"As a result, September market activity was naturally regarded as a useful barometer and became part of Wall Street folklore."

However, it adds, starting with 1960, an "incredible transformation" occurred. "September became a reverse barometer." Bearish Septembers tended to be followed by bullish fourth quarters and vice-versa.

Millipedes Invade Rural Area

FLOYDS KNOBS, Ind. (AP) — Millions of millipedes have invaded Floyds Knobs, crunching underfoot and forcing residents into an almost military defense of their homes.

The many-footed insects appeared two months ago, crawling out of the wooded hills that gave this Indiana community of 375 its name.

It got so bad that one resident, Thomas Pickett, said he could look up from his dinner table and see them on the ceiling.

There have been no injuries or damage. The insects feed on decaying matter such as dead leaves and bark and neither bite nor sting.

The worst infestation has been around a dozen homes nestled at the foot of the hills.

Residents have dug trenches around the homes, filling the ditches with turpentine, oil and kerosene. The mixture doesn't kill the millipedes, but it keeps them from trespassing.

Ray Seifert, Floyd County farm extension agent, said insecticide spray is effective, "but of course you kill them and the next day the replacements arrive."

Air Clean-Up Lawsuit Filed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Claiming Ohio's air clean-up effort has collapsed, the Northern Ohio Lung Association filed suit today to force the federal government to take over the program.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, demands the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency declare the state has permitted widespread violations of its federally approved plan to progressively clean up air pollution.

Karl C. Johnson, president of the association's trustees, said failure to require Ohio's electric utilities to meet sulfur oxide regulations and approval of particulate clean-up deadlines past July 1, 1975, are violations of state and federal law.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Two of my sisters began to lose their hearing when they were only 30. I am 26 and I've noticed that since the birth of my second child my hearing is not as sharp as it used to be. Will I have the same problem as my sisters?

Mrs. V. T., Neb.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Your observation that your hearing was less acute after pregnancy is a very interesting one. This, coupled with the fact that your sisters became deaf at an early age, suggests the possibility that a hereditary condition known as "otosclerosis" may be present.

For some unexplained reason, pregnancy, especially during the end stages, may cause some drop in hearing.

Otosclerosis follows a family pattern and more frequently involves women than men. Although it is a complex condition, the diagnosis can be made by an ear specialist. Complete examination of the ears, X-ray studies and special audiometric hearing tests can point to the possibility that otosclerosis exists.

There is, at present, no medical method by which the progress of this condition can be interrupted.

However, today, there is an operation known as "stapedectomy" which is remarkably effective in a high percentage of cases of otosclerosis.

The operation was first described at the turn of the century. Interest in it was lost until 1955, when tremendous strides were made in modifying the original idea, by Dr. Samuel Rosen of New York City.

Extensions of his idea have made the present stapedectomy a boon to those for whom there was no medical or surgical hope. The most ingenious techniques are used today in this operation. It is now possible to reopen, in the ear, the pathway for the transmission of sound that has been blocked by otosclerosis.

There are, of course, other types of deafness which are not amenable to this particular type of surgery.

A complete survey of your problem is essential. Rather than live in the shadow of fear that your hearing may be progressively lost, you must make inquiry from your physician and ear specialist and find out if you are one of the ideal candidates for this highly successful type of surgery.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . .
Many medicines lose their potency when kept too long. Most important drugs are labeled to show their expiration date.

Harsher Penalties Levied In New Ohio Rape Statute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted rapists face harsher penalties and victims are protected against badgering by defense attorneys about their sexual past under a new state rape law signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The revisions in criminal law took effect immediately upon Rhodes' signature Wednesday.

The bill establishes a mandatory minimum five-year sentence for a second rape conviction with no opportunity for probation and parole.

In most instances, it forbids evidence concerning a victim's sex life from being introduced by the defense in a rape trial.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, who wrote the legislation, said a change in rape laws was needed to encourage prosecution by victims who are reluctant to press charges because they fear embarrassing courtroom situations.

"The bill will put the victim and the defendant on equal footing and will assure that the trial will be one of fact and not one of embarrassment and humiliation," Brown said.

The new law stipulates that a judge can decide after a private hearing to allow evidence about an alleged victim's sexual background if it pertains to the defendant; to the origin of semen, pregnancy or disease, or if it tends to prove a plot against the defendant.

However, a judge cannot allow a victim's "credibility" to be challenged by the defense on the basis of past sexual conduct. That section raised objections from the Ohio Civil Liberties Union of Ohio which contended it was unconstitutional under the "right to confront one's accuser."

The bill toughens the minimum four-year penalty for a first-time rape offender by eliminating the opportunity for probation, although parole is still possible. It calls for a mandatory 10-year prison sentence on second conviction for a sexual assault on a youth under age 13.

Sponsored by Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, the legislation also provides that:

—Victims, who by law must be represented by government prosecutors, may also hire a private lawyer as cocounsel.

—A new crime of sexual penetration—forced insertion of objects into sexual areas of the body — is established with penalties comparable to those for rape.

—A husband can be prosecuted for raping his wife if the attack occurs while the couple is legally separated or awaiting resolution of divorce or annulment proceedings.

—Hospitals must provide 24-hour emergency services for examination and treatment of rape victims.

A trade boom in Pickaway County indicated to Treasurer Bob Colville that tax receipts for the year would show a gain of $70,000 over 1954.

The first major improvement of Salt Creek School since 1916 was planned with a proposed addition to the building dependent upon passage of a $135,000 bond issue in November.

Distances covered walking on the job were being recorded for The Herald by a pedometer attached to the individual. Thus far, two jobs shared the record of 16 miles per work day — a milk man and a meter reader. A nurse's aide at Berger Hospital took part in the test and registered 14 miles of foot travel per day.

A bit of old Circleville history was brought to attention when a resident of Marion wrote The Herald asking if the Bank of Circleville still existed. The writer had a $3 bank note issued by that bank on Sept. 2, 1835 and wanted to know if the note could be redeemed. The answer was no.

"I asked him to give me ONE good reason I shouldn't have a raise and he gave me TEN!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Two of my sisters began to lose their hearing when they were only 30. I am 26 and I've noticed that since the birth of my second child my hearing is not as sharp as it used to be. Will I have the same problem as my sisters?

Mrs. V. T., Neb.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Your observation that your hearing was less acute after pregnancy is a very interesting one. This, coupled with the fact that your sisters became deaf at an early age, suggests the possibility that a hereditary condition known as "otosclerosis" may be present.

For some unexplained reason, pregnancy, especially during the end stages, may cause some drop in hearing.

Otosclerosis follows a family pattern and more frequently involves women than men. Although it is a complex condition, the diagnosis can be made by an ear specialist. Complete examination of the ears, X-ray studies and special audiometric hearing tests can point to the possibility that otosclerosis exists.

There is, at present, no medical method by which the progress of this condition can be interrupted.

However, today, there is an operation known as "stapedectomy"

which is remarkably effective in a high percentage of cases of otosclerosis.

The operation was first described at the turn of the century. Interest in it was lost until 1955, when tremendous strides were made in modifying the original idea, by Dr. Samuel Rosen of New York City.

Extensions of his idea have made the present stapedectomy a boon to those for whom there was no medical or surgical hope. The most ingenious techniques are used today in this operation. It is now possible to reopen, in the ear, the pathway for the transmission of sound that has been blocked by otosclerosis.

There are, of course, other types of deafness which are not amenable to this particular type of surgery.

A complete survey of your problem is essential. Rather than live in the shadow of fear that your hearing may be progressively lost, you must make inquiry from your physician and ear specialist and find out if you are one of the ideal candidates for this highly successful type of surgery.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Many medicines lose their potency when kept too long. Most important drugs are labeled to show their expiration date.

Harsher Penalties Levied In New Ohio Rape Statute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted rapists face harsher penalties and victims are protected against badgering by defense attorneys about their sexual past under a new state rape law signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The revisions in criminal law took effect immediately upon Rhodes' signature Wednesday.

The bill establishes a mandatory minimum five-year sentence for a second rape conviction with no opportunity for probation and parole.

In most instances, it forbids evidence concerning a victim's sex life from being introduced by the defense in a rape trial.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, who wrote the legislation, said a change in rape laws was needed to encourage prosecution by victims who are reluctant to press charges because they fear embarrassing courtroom situations.

"The bill will put the victim and the defendant on equal footing and will assure that the trial will be one of fact and not one of embarrassment and humiliation," Brown said.

The new law stipulates that a judge can decide after a private hearing to allow evidence about an alleged victim's sexual background if it pertains to the defendant; to the origin of semen, pregnancy or disease, or if it tends to prove a plot against the defendant.

However, a judge cannot allow a victim's "credibility" to be challenged by the defense on the basis of past sexual conduct. That section raised objections from the Ohio Civil Liberties Union of Ohio which contended it was unconstitutional under the "right to confront one's accuser."

The bill toughens the minimum four-year penalty for a first-time rape offender by eliminating the opportunity for probation, although parole is still possible. It calls for a mandatory 10-year prison sentence on second conviction for a sexual assault on a youth under age 13.

Sponsored by Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, the legislation also provides that:

—Victims, who by law must be represented by government prosecutors, may also hire a private lawyer as cocounsel.

—A new crime of sexual penetration—forced insertion of objects into sexual areas of the body — is established with penalties comparable to those for rape.

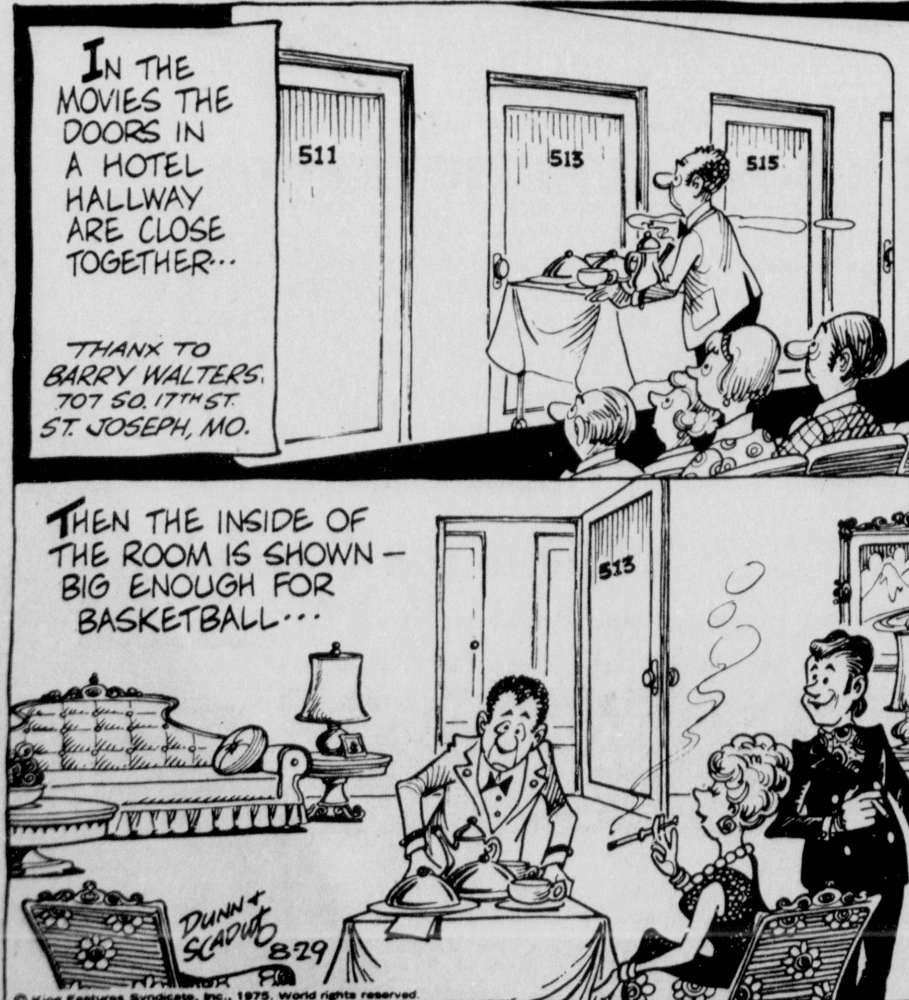

—A husband can be prosecuted for raping his wife if the attack occurs while the couple is legally separated or awaiting resolution of divorce or annulment proceedings.

—Hospitals must provide 24-hour emergency services for examination and treatment of rape victims.

In 1952 Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower became the first Republican to win the presidency since 1928.

Gov. Orval Faubus called out the Arkansas National Guard in 1957 to prevent integration of Little Rock schools. President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent in Federal Regulars to protect the black students.

ALLENTOWN, PA.

DEAR ALLENTOWN: Accept the young man as he is. And if you don't quit hassling your daughter about her boyfriend's hair, you won't see hide nor hair of either of 'em.

DEAR ABBY: We have four grown children. Three are married, and the fourth is leaving for college soon. We are faced with an important decision. Should we sell our big home? Or should we keep it so the children can come and visit us and bring their families? (Two live out of town.)

Our home is very saleable, and we could realize a nice profit. It's awfully big for Dad and me to rattle around in, plus the yard is a lot to take care of.

Dad and I are thinking we might enjoy an apartment, so that if we feel like taking off for a little vacation, we can just turn the key and leave. Also, perhaps later on, we might want to retire to a warmer climate.

Are we selfish for thinking of giving up our house? Perhaps some readers who have experienced this predicament will write in and give us the pros and cons.

"TO SELL OR NOT TO SELL"

DEAT TO: I'll ask. Readers?

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé and I are to be married in eight weeks. We've been engaged for two years. We made all the arrangements, reserved the church, talked to the minister, bought my gown and addressed the invitations. The only thing we haven't done yet is mail them.

My question is: Should we mail the invitations? The fact is that my fiancé is still seeing the girl he went with before we became engaged.

He says he loves me, and wants to marry me, but he wants to keep seeing this other girl a little while longer. I tried to explain that if he wants to keep seeing her, she must be very important to him, in which case we should call off our wedding.

He tells me I'm wrong—that I'm the one he loves, but my heart tells me he is only going through with the wedding because he doesn't want to hurt me.

I am too much in love to think straight. Please help me. I asked my mother and she says I should go through with the wedding. Should I?
TORN

DEAR TORN: No! Better a broken engagement than a broken marriage later. Your fiancé is conning you.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

(Q.) Twenty years ago I bought a house with a maximum loan guaranty of $7500 from the VA. Since the current loan guaranty maximum is $12,500, do I have more entitlement coming?

(A.) Yes. You still have entitlement equal to the difference between $12,500 and $7,500, or $5,000 in loan guaranty.

(Q.) Are military retirees required to give up a portion of their monthly payment when they become entitled to Social Security payments.

(A.) No.

(Q.) Since VA is authorized to pay a $150 plot allowance in private cemeteries, is this payable when one purchases the plot or following the veteran's death? Both my husband and I are World War II veterans and elect burial in a private cemetery?

(A.) Payment of the VA plot allowance is made after the veteran dies, not before death upon purchase of a burial plot.

(Q.) I have been carrying my Government Life Insurance since World War II, but either I have lost my Insurance Policy, or I was never issued one. Either way, I don't have any; what should I do?

(A.) Many veterans were never issued insurance policies. They are not necessary. As long as you know your policy number, you will never have any problems.

(Q.) I entered military Service on July 25, 1975; will I be eligible for Education Benefits when I am separated?

(A.) No, I am sorry you will not. Anyone entering service after June 30, 1975, is not eligible for any education benefits.

(Q.) My mother receives VA Dependency and Indemnity Compensation based on the service connected death of my father during World War II. Is she eligible for any extra financial benefits since she is ill and requires almost constant attention?

(A.) A $64 monthly aid and attendance allowance, in addition to regular benefits, is available to widows who draw DIC if they are patients in nursing homes, helpless or blind, or so nearly helpless or blind as to require the regular aid and attendance of other persons.

Indiana Consumer Group Ruled Out

GREENFIELD, Ind. (AP) A group formed to fight court battles on behalf of Indiana consumers has been ruled ineligible to file such lawsuits.

Hancock Circuit Court Judge George Davis ruled Wednesday that the Indiana Public Interest Research Group must either find an eligible plaintiff or give up its suit against the state Pharmacy Board. The group is attacking a regulation prohibiting advertisement of patent medicine prices. The group claims the ban on patent medicine price advertising violates the Indiana Constitution.

Davis ruled the group had no legal standing to bring the suit. To have standing, a person or organization must show direct involvement in the matter under litigation. Davis ruled the organization could not create its own legal standing simply by stating in its articles of incorporation that its purpose was to "litigate in the public interest."

21 Food Stamp Convictions Noted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-one persons were convicted of fraud in obtaining food stamps in Ohio during the period from April to June of this year, the Department of Public Welfare has announced.

The prosecutions were in Marion County, 10; Lorain County, 4; Clark County, 3, and one each in Butler, Lake, Muskingum and Trumbull counties.

Those convicted usually failed to report their income correctly. One convicted recipient received food stamps under two names and another did not list savings of over $3,000.

Sentences ranged up to $1,000 and jail terms of one to five years.

Howard Thurston, 1869-1936, noted magician, was a native of Columbus, Ohio.

News Of Interest To Women
The Circleville Herald, Friday August 29, 1975

Girls' State Delegates Legion Auxiliary Speakers

Highlight of the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary in the Post Home was hearing the experiences of Miss Dianne Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Green, 260 Lewis Road, representing the Unit and Miss Molly Hamrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick, 420 Glenmont Court, BPW representative to Buckeye Girls State at Capital University, Columbus in June. Both girls attend Circleville High School.

They related activities from their arrival, taking physicals, being assigned to one of the 25 cities, campaigning for an office; becoming acquainted with their roommates, listening to many good speakers, taking part in the bus tour including the State Capital Building and sitting in when the House of Representatives was in session learning firsthand how state government is run.

Molly displayed a bulletin board she made explaining the various items and Dianne showed literature covering the many activities which took place. They told of the efficiency of the staff made up of volunteers of the American Legion Auxiliary members from units in the state who give their vacation time from regular jobs and their families each year. They both expressed appreciation for being given the opportunity to attend and hope the program will go on in coming years. Mrs. George Hamrick was an additional guest and spoke briefly.

Gillette-Smith Wedding Sunday

The wedding of Miss Carol S. Gillette of Columbus and Stephen D. Smith, Columbus, formerly of Circleville, will take place 2:30 p.m., Saturday, at Upper Arlington Lutheran Church, Lytham Road, Columbus.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

PORCH TEA

Thrifty sponge cake, iced tea.

Thrifty Sponge Cake

This was popular about 30 years ago.
1 3/4 cups sifted cake flour
1 3/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 eggs, separated
1 and 1-3rd cups sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat together the water, lemon rind and egg yolks until very light in color and greatly increased in volume; gradually beat in 1 cup of the sugar; gradually fold in flour mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in remaining sugar, then lemon juice; fold gently but thoroughly into egg-yolk mixture.

Pour into an ungreased 9-inch anglecake pan. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven 1 hour. Remove from oven and invert pan; let cake stand until cold before removing from pan. Frost as desired. This cake does not have as fine a texture as traditional sponge cake.

THRIFTY SUPPER

Baked beans, cole slaw, raisin oat loaf, fruit, beverage.

Raisin Oat Loaf

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup quick-cooking oats
Large egg
3/4 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar

1 cup buttermilk
1 cup raisins
1/2 cup coarsely broken walnuts

On wax or brown paper stir together the flour, baking soda and salt; add egg and brown sugar until blended; beat in buttermilk. Add flour mixture and stir until moistened. Stir in raisins and walnuts. Turn into a greased 8 by 4 by 2 1/2 inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until loaf shrinks from sides of pan and top is browned — 50 to 60 minutes.

Turn out on a wire rack; turn right side up; cool completely. When cold may be sliced about 1/4-inch thick. For easiest slicing, when top will soften, wrap in plastic film and store in a tightly covered tin box for 6 hours or overnight. Keeps moist, stored this way, for several days; after that, store in refrigerator.

Lutheran Church Circles To Meet

Circles of Trinity Lutheran Church have scheduled meetings for the coming week as follows: Elizabeth Circle 1:30 p.m. and Esther Circle 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, and Mary Circle 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, all in the church parlor.

When you are preparing soft bread crumbs, never throw away the crusts removed from the slices of bread. Dry them and crush fine; store them in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator and you'll find many uses for them.

Funeral Home Industry Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today accused the $2-billion-per-year funeral home industry of practices ranging from bodysnatching to bait-and-switch sales tactics. The commission proposed rules to stop undertakers from exploiting and deceiving the bereaved.

Announcing results of a two-year probe, the FTC said it found widespread abuses among the nation's 22,000 funeral homes.

In addition to the bodysnatching and bait-and-switch tactics, the FTC said it found requirements for the purchase of expensive coffins for cremations, false claims for waterproof burial vaults and profiting on flowers, clergymen and pallbearers.

At the same time, the FTC announced acceptance of a consent order requiring Service Corporation International — SCI — of Houston, Tex., the nation's largest funeral home chain, to refund overcharges for cremations performed during the past 4 1/2 years.

The proposed funeral rules, if adopted, would override any state and local laws that prohibit price advertising and that require caskets for cremation.

An accompanying FTC staff document said state regulatory boards are often under the control of the industry, and that the general counsel of the National Funeral Directors Association, the industry's largest trade association, also is general counsel to the conference of state regulatory boards.

News Of Interest To Women
The Circleville Herald, Friday August 29, 1975

Girls' State Delegates Legion Auxiliary Speakers

Highlight of the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary in the Post Home was hearing the experiences of Miss Dianne Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Green, 260 Lewis Road, representing the Unit and Miss Molly Hamrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick, 420 Glenmont Court, BPW representative to Buckeye Girls State at Capital University, Columbus in June. Both girls attend Circleville High School.

They related activities from their arrival, taking physicals, being assigned to one of the 25 cities, campaigning for an office; becoming acquainted with their roommates, listening to many good speakers, taking part in the bus tour including the State Capital Building and sitting in when the House of Representatives was in session learning firsthand how state government is run.

Molly displayed a bulletin board she made explaining the various items and Dianne showed literature covering the many activities which took place. They told of the efficiency of the staff made up of volunteers of the American Legion Auxiliary members from units in the state who give their vacation time from regular jobs and their families each year. They both expressed appreciation for being given the opportunity to attend and hope the program will go on in coming years. Mrs. George Hamrick was an additional guest and spoke briefly.

Gillette-Smith Wedding Sunday

The wedding of Miss Carol S. Gillette of Columbus and Stephen D. Smith, Columbus, formerly of Circleville, will take place 2:30 p.m., Saturday, at Upper Arlington Lutheran Church, Lytham Road, Columbus.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Betty Sabine, president, presided during the brief business session. Maggie Mavis, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer. Nedra Blaney, secretary, gave reports and read a thank you note from Betty Wallace expressing appreciation for flowers when she was in the hospital. Roseann Stinson, children and youth chairman, reported continued aid to disabled veterans children with clothing to start the new school year.

Members are urged to pay 1976 dues as soon as possible, as Fall Conference will be Sept. 27 at James Dickey Post 23, Portsmouth. Registration 9 a.m., meeting 10 a.m. All units in the district are working to reach membership goals early. The chaplain closed the meeting with prayer.

Iola McClarren and Mary Stephens invited guests and members to the refreshment table decorated in the Bicentennial theme where punch, cookies, mints and nuts were served.

PORCH TEA Thrifty sponge cake, iced tea.

Thrifty Sponge Cake
This was popular about 30 years ago.
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
1¾ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup cold water
1½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 eggs, separated
1 and 1-3rd cups sugar
1½ teaspoons lemon juice

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat together the water, lemon rind and egg yolks until very light in color and greatly increased in volume; gradually beat in 1 cup of the sugar; gradually fold in flour mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in remaining sugar, then lemon juice; fold gently but thoroughly into egg-yolk mixture.

Pour into an ungreased 9-inch angelcake pan. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven 1 hour. Remove from oven and invert pan; let cake stand until cold before removing from pan. Frost as desired. This cake does not have as fine a texture as traditional sponge cake.

THRIFTY SUPPER Baked beans, cole slaw, raisin oat loaf, fruit, beverage.

Raisin Oat Loaf
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup quick-cooking oats
Large egg
¾ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup raisins
½ cup coarsely broken walnuts

On wax or brown paper stir together the flour, baking soda and salt; add oats. In a medium mixing bowl beat egg and brown sugar until blended; beat in buttermilk. Add flour mixture and stir until moistened. Stir in raisins and walnuts. Turn into a greased 8 by 4 by 2½ inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until loaf shrinks from sides of pan and top is browned — 50 to 60 minutes.

Turn out on a wire rack; turn right side up; cool completely. When cold may be sliced about ½-inch thick. For easiest slicing, when top will soften, wrap in plastic film and store in a tightly covered tin box for 6 hours or overnight. Keeps moist, stored this way, for several days; after that, store in refrigerator.

Lutheran Church Circles To Meet

Circles of Trinity Lutheran Church have scheduled meetings for the coming week as follows: Elizabeth Circle 1:30 p.m. and Esther Circle 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, and Mary Circle 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, all in the church parlor.

When you are preparing soft bread crumbs, never throw away the crusts removed from the slices of bread. Dry them and crush fine; store them in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator and you'll find many uses for them.

Coal Mine Strike Continues To Spread

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Two-thirds of the nation's coal miners continued today to ignore federal court orders and union leaders' pleas to end their three weeks of wildcat strikes across Appalachia and the Midwest.

As the strike's power increased in states beyond its West Virginia origin, about 80,000 of 125,000 United Mine Workers bituminous coal miners were idled on overnight shifts by roving pickets.

Federal judges in areas recently hit by roving pickets issued injunctions ordering the miners back to work, but those, like the many issued in West Virginia, were not heeded.

The only miner thus far jailed in the dispute was released Thursday when he promised to try to persuade his fellow workers to return.

Sim Howze, UMW Local 8454 president in Logan County, told U.S. District Judge K.K. Hall here, "I'll do all I can to the best of my ability to obey the court order." He had served six days of a 90-day contempt sentence for failure to return to work.

Queens Contest Deadline Extended For Tarlton Event

The deadline for applications to be submitted for the queen contest of the annual Tarlton Fun Festival Sept. 4-5-6 has been extended until Tuesday.

The contest is open to residents of the village of Tarlton and the immediate area. Ages for the Little Miss contest are five, six or seven. Applications or additional information can be obtained by contacting Pat Herron, 474-7417.

Plans for the event have been finalized. There will be a carnival and flea market as well as bingo all three days. In addition there will be a fish stand and display in the firehouse. A

3 Escapees Recaptured

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Three Butler County Jail escapees were recaptured on a downtown Hamilton street early today after four hours of freedom.

Sheriff's deputies said the three offered some resistance, but that no one was injured in the recapture.

It was the third escape from the jail for William Murphy, 29, of Hamilton.

Murphy, already under a prison sentence for a 1974 escape and kidnapping charge, had recently been returned from the Lima State Hospital to face an old burglary charge, according to jail authorities.

Officers said Morgan was armed with a knife and a razor.

They said the men overpowered a deputy, robbed him of $90, broke a screen out of a jail window and escaped through it.

The other two escapees were Donald L. Morgan, in jail on a burglary charge, and James Yee, 25, charged with passing bad checks.

Kings Island Ends Daily Schedule

Kings Island family entertainment center will conclude its daily operation for the 1975 season at 11 p.m. on Labor Day, Monday, September 1.

The park will remain open weekends through October 26, with the exception of September 20 and 21 and September 27 and 28, when employees of Procter & Gamble and General Electric will enjoy company group outings.

Weekends the park will open at 10 a.m.

Admission price to Kings Island is $7.

During the month of October Kings Island Happy Place Package coupons will also be good for $1.50 off the regular single admission price. The discount coupon books were distributed to regular season park patrons from April through June.

Kings Island is north of Cincinnati on I-71.

Set Record On Roller Coaster

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP)— One disc jockey and two amusement park employees claim a new world record for riding a roller coaster.

Dan Aspery, Mark Watkins and disc jockey Jim Fox, all from the Cincinnati area, smashed a record which had set only two weeks ago at Coney Island in New York when they scooted 606.27 miles in 41 hours and 15 minutes.

They vowed they would keep on riding the roller coaster at Kings Island Amusement Park until they could also topple the time record of 52 hours, 32 minutes, set last year at Fun City, in Ozark, Missouri.

"The first 10 hours were really fun," said Fox, during one of the group's five-minute breaks. "Around the 15th hour, though, I started getting a little nauseous, but I talked myself out of that. Now it's just like being on a long truck ride. Your body gets used to it."

The participants had their blood pressure and pulse checked every two hours as they were hurtled around on their 22-lap-an-hour pace. One of the volunteers was forced to abandon his chase for a share of the record when doctors noted an increase in his blood pressure.

One park official described their diet as "something that's going to stay down." That included peanut butter sandwiches, crackers, potato chips and soft drinks.

"It certainly hasn't been boring," said Aspery, a premed student at Xavier University. I found out early in the ride, you have to lean forward in the seat before you go down the first hill, to keep from getting sick. After a while you also get to know where all the bumps are. They really made me glad I had two cushions along."

Taft Raps Conrail

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, said Thursday he favors limiting the existence of Conrail if Congress establishes it as the federal railroad operating corporation.

Taft blamed the Interstate Commerce Commission for many of the country's railroad problems, saying the agency excessively regulates and interferes with private industry.

He said nationalization of the railroads would result in "at least $100 billion of taxpayers' money and capital costs, plus endless yearly deficits in the billions."

Taft said he favors a federal agency to plan reorganization of the problem railroads and then auctioning them to private enterprise.

The senator spoke at a transportation conference of Mahoning Valley steel industrialists sponsored by the Western Reserve Economic Development Agency.

Bottle Collection Stolen From House

Thieves took a collection of bottles and an antique jug from the 144 Cottage Hill home of Thomas Evans, Circleville Police said today.

The items, owned by Sara Evans, Route 2, had been stored in Mr. Evans house since June.

Items taken include an Avon bottle collection valued at $125 and a Brownware antique jug valued at $35.

Vivian Brown, 355 Edwards Rd., told police that she was sitting in the dining room of her home about 8:20 p.m. Thursday when vandals threw a rock into the picture window of her home.

The four-foot square window was shattered.

Pickaway-Ross JVS Free Lunch Policy Announced

Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center has approved its policy for free meals and free milk or reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size	Income Scale For Free Meals	Income Scale For Reduced Price Meals
1	$ 3,230	$ 4,520
2	4,240	5,930
3	5,250	7,350
4	6,260	8,770
5	7,190	10,060
6	8,110	11,360
7	8,950	12,530
8	9,790	13,700
9	10,550	14,770
10	11,310	15,840
11	12,060	16,890
12	12,810	17,940

Each Additional Family Member 750 1,050

Eligibility determinations are made on a family basis, that is, all the children in the same family attending schools under the jurisdiction of the same school food authority are to receive the same benefits, Free Meals and Free Milk or Reduced-Price Meals.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk or for reduced priced meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in the school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no student will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, Ronald E. Vetter, Academic Supervisor, will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the officials, he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Paul W. Hydell, Superintendent, Route 1, Box 294-A, Chillicothe, O. 45601, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

The school office and the Board of Education administrative office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

Howze's miners were among the first to walk out between Aug. 6 and 11, when two Logan County miners were suspended in unrelated incidents and their colleagues set up picket lines to protest the slow grievance procedure to give them hearings.

Since then, union members in southern West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Alabama and southwestern Virginia have joined in the walkout, which has been deplored by UMW leaders on the district and national levels.

While some strikers are in sympathy with the original West Virginia goals, others have added other touchy issues relating to the 1974 contract, particularly the right to strike over local and safety issues, which the miners do not have.

Howze said his local only was concerned about the suspension of miner Franklin Perry, who has since been rehired.

"We're not in the movement for the right to strike," he said.

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP) — One disc jockey and two amusement park employees claim a new world record for riding a roller coaster.

Dan Aspery, Mark Watkins and disc jockey Jim Fox, all from the Cincinnati area, smashed a record which had set only two weeks ago at Coney Island in New York when they scooted 606.27 miles in 41 hours and 15 minutes.

They vowed they would keep on riding the roller coaster at Kings Island Amusement Park until they could also topple the time record of 52 hours, 32 minutes, set last year at Fun City, in Ozark, Missouri.

"The first 10 hours were really fun," said Fox, during one of the group's five-minute breaks. "Around the 15th hour, though, I started getting a little nauseous, but I talked myself out of that. Now it's just like being on a long truck ride. Your body gets used to it."

The participants had their blood pressure and pulse checked every two hours as they were hurtled around on their 22-lap-an-hour pace. One of the volunteers was forced to abandon his chase for a share of the record when doctors noted an increase in his blood pressure.

One park official described their diet as "something that's going to stay down." That included peanut butter sandwiches, crackers, potato chips and soft drinks.

"It certainly hasn't been boring," said Aspery, a premed student at Xavier University. I found out early in the ride, you have to lean forward in the seat before you go down the first hill, to keep from getting sick. After a while you also get to know where all the bumps are. They really made me glad I had two cushions along."

Taft Raps Conrail

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, said Thursday he favors limiting the existence of Conrail if Congress establishes it as the federal railroad operating corporation.

Taft blamed the Interstate Commerce Commission for many of the country's railroad problems, saying the agency excessively regulates and interferes with private industry.

He said nationalization of the railroads would result in "at least $100 billion of taxpayers' money and capital costs, plus endless yearly deficits in the billions."

Taft said he favors a federal agency to plan reorganization of the problem railroads and then auctioning them to private enterprise.

The senator spoke at a transportation conference of Mahoning Valley steel industrialists sponsored by the Western Reserve Economic Development Agency.

Bottle Collection Stolen From House

Thieves took a collection of bottles and an antique jug from the 144 Cottage Hill home of Thomas Evans, Circleville Police said today.

The items, owned by Sara Evans, Route 2, had been stored in Mr. Evans house since June.

Items taken include an Avon bottle collection valued at $125 and a Brownware antique jug valued at $35.

Vivian Brown, 355 Edwards Rd., told police that she was sitting in the dining room of her home about 8:20 p.m. Thursday when vandals threw a rock into the picture window of her home.

The four-foot square window was shattered.

Pickaway-Ross JVS Free Lunch Policy Announced

Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center has approved its policy for free meals and free milk or reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size	Income Scale For Free Meals	Income Scale For Reduced Price Meals
1	$ 3,230	$ 4,520
2	4,240	5,930
3	5,250	7,350
4	6,260	8,770
5	7,190	10,060
6	8,110	11,360
7	8,950	12,530
8	9,790	13,700
9	10,550	14,770
10	11,310	15,840
11	12,060	16,890
12	12,810	17,940

Each Additional Family Member 750 1,050

Eligibility determinations are made on a family basis, that is, all the children in the same family attending schools under the jurisdiction of the same school food authority are to receive the same benefits, Free Meals and Free Milk or Reduced-Price Meals.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk or for reduced priced meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in the school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such

Versailles Woman Dies After Fall From Car

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old Versailles woman died Wednesday night of injuries she received when she fell out of a car earlier this week, authorities said.

Mary Baltes was injured Monday when she became ill, opened the car door and fell from the moving vehicle before the driver could stop, the Montgomery County coroner's office said.

meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no student will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, Ronald E. Vetter, Academic Supervisor, will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the officials, he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Paul W. Hydel, Superintendent, Route 1, Box 294-A, Chillicothe, O. 45601, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

The school office and the Board of Education administrative office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

3 Escapees Recaptured

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Three Butler County Jail escapees were recaptured on a downtown Hamilton street early today after four hours of freedom.

Sheriff's deputies said the three offered some resistance, but that no one was injured in the recapture.

It was the third escape from the jail for William Murphy, 29, of Hamilton.

Murphy, already under a prison sentence for a 1974 escape and kidnapping charge, had recently been returned from the Lima State Hospital to face an old burglary charge, according to jail authorities.

Officers said Morgan was armed with a knife and a razor.

They said the men overpowered a deputy, robbed him of $90, broke a screen out of a jail window and escaped through it.

The other two escapees were Donald L. Morgan, in jail on a burglary charge, and James Yee, 25, charged with passing bad checks.

Kings Island Ends Daily Schedule

Kings Island family entertainment center will conclude its daily operation for the 1975 season at 11 p.m. on Labor Day, Monday, September 1.

The park will remain open weekends through October 26, with the exception of September 20 and 21 and September 27 and 28, when employees of Procter & Gamble and General Electric will enjoy company group outings.

Weekends the park will open at 10 a.m.

Admission price to Kings Island is $7.

During the month of October Kings Island Happy Place Package coupons will also be good for $1.50 off the regular single admission price. The discount coupon books were distributed to regular season park patrons from April through June.

Kings Island is north of Cincinnati on I-71.

New Ministerial Teams Emerge

NEW YORK (AP) — A new kind of ministerial team — the clergy couple — is multiplying among American Protestant churches and seems destined to become a familiar arrangement.

With the current upsurge of women training in the nation's seminaries and with many of them marrying male seminarians, the prospect was strong for a growing corp of husband-and-wife ministerial partnerships.

"It's the coming thing," says the Rev. Thomas Knutson, pastor of First Lutheran Church in Harvey, Ill. His wife, Karen, also is an ordained Lutheran Church of America minister. Recognizing such pairs as a swelling trend, the United Methodist Church's division of ordained ministry recently held its first conference about it, noting that 93 clergy couples now hold posts in the denomination.

Their joint vocation should be seen, not as a problem, but as "opportunities for new and creative ministry," 12 ordained couples participating in the meeting at Nashville, Tenn., said in a statement.

The wedded ministries have developed in most major Protestant denominations. A United Presbyterian assembly last year suggested congregations consider calling "husbands and wives who desire to serve as an ordained team in the same church."

Some of the couples do so, while others serve different parishes in the same geographical vicinity.

The couples-of-the cloth say there are some difficulties in their status, as well as advantages, including the added necessity of finding posts close together. They also cite the possibility of husband-wife competition if they work for the same congregation.

In California, pastors of churches at different ends of the state and in different Lutheran denominations were married in June, and continue to serve posts in different denominational and geographical settings.

They are the Rev. Bill Strehlow, 33, pastor of a Lutheran Church of American congregation at Norco in Southern California and the Rev. Karen Bloomquist, 27, pastor of an American Lutheran congregation at Oakland.

"We want to maintain our separate jurisdictional identities as part of our commitment to Lutheran unity," she said. They'll see each other about once every two weeks, with help of commuter airlines.

Teacher Strike Threats False?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Strike threats by teacher groups are exaggerated and are a means of putting pressure on school boards and are to be expected, Frank DeWald, Indiana Education Employment Relations Board chairman, said Thursday.

Teachers in Marion have formally voted to strike if contract agreement is not reached soon and other teacher groups have threatened similar action.

DeWald said a factfinder was working in Marion and a good chance exists that the matter will be resolved by Tuesday when schools are scheduled to open. He said the state had no teacher strikes last year and predicted none would occur this year.

The Rev. Mr. Knutson of the Harvey, Ill., church, whose wife until recently was pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in neighboring Homewood, Ill., says the long hours of separate ministries don't detract from personal ties.

"We found we were home at about the same times and gone at about the same times," he says, adding that maintaining family life is no harder in such a case than when a pastor is married to a partner working in some different profession.

However, being in the same vocation has an advantage, he says, making for deepened "understanding of what each of us is involved in and of the demands and pressure on us. We found this very helpful."

Church Briefs

Jean Albert, Asbury Theological Seminary Student, will be the guest speaker in the morning and evening services at the Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church.

"The Kingdom Is Yours" is the sermon topic for the 9 a.m. worship service at the Calvary United Methodist Church.

The sermon theme for the morning worship service at the First Presbyterian Church is "Christianity Can Be Joyous."

"The Great Differences" is the sermon title for both services at Trinity Lutheran Church.

The Tabor Family Singers will present a program at both the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School and the 10:30 a.m. worship Service at People's Faith Chapel one mile east of Circleville on Route 56 Sunday.

Ministers Plan 1st Meeting

The Pickaway County Ministerial Association will hold its first 1975-76 meeting, 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, 310 E. Main St.

All pastors and ministers of the Circleville and Pickaway County area, including Mt. Sterling, Stoutsville, Kingston and Laurelville, are invited to share with this interdenominational group. There are no dues or doctrine which one must ascribe.

It is hoped that church congregations will encourage their pastor to share with the association.

Andrae Crouch To Present Gospel Concert

Andrae Crouch and the Disciples, America's top soul Gospel Singing Group, will appear at the East High School, East Broad Street, Columbus, 8 p.m. Saturday.

Labor Day Camp Begins Tonight

The 1975 Stoutsville Labor Day Camp begins 7:30 p.m. tonight at the campground located seven miles east of Circleville on Stoutsville Pike, and continues through 2 p.m. Monday.

Bible teachers speaking each day include the Rev. Glenn Crabtree, 10 a.m. Saturday; Rev. Melvin Maxwell, 10:30 a.m. Sunday and the Rev. Charles Williams, 10 a.m. Monday.

Other services are scheduled for 1:30

and 7:30 p.m. Saturday; 2 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 2 p.m. Monday.

The Gospel Harmony Boys, nationally known Gospel Singers from Huntington, W. Va., will provide special music in each of the services. A special Gospel Sing Festival is slated for 2 p.m. both Sunday and Monday.

Children's meetings are planned for 10 a.m. Saturday through Monday and Youth Meetings for 6:15 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The Rev. Richard Frasure is president of the Stoutsville Camp-meeting Association.

Lancaster Sets Closing Camp Services

A Communion and Memorial Service 10:30 a.m. Sunday officiated by the Rev. F. Stanten Smith and Rev. Roy Ballard will highlight the closing week at the Lancaster United Methodist Campground, 2151 W. Fair Ave.

Smith was appointed superintendent of the Campground in 1973. A native of Licking County, Smith is a graduate of Newark High School, attended Ohio University and prepared for the ministry at Garrett Biblical Institute.

Ballard retired as pastor of the Nelsonville United Methodist Church in 1974. He and his wife reside on the campground.

The movie, "Sound of the Trumpet" will be shown at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

A Labor Day picnic will be held at noon Monday at the Youth Lodge and a Pancake Supper is set for 5-7 p.m. Sept. 6 at Creighton Corner.

Jobless Claims Show Mixture

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Initial claims for unemployment benefits from the state rose last week after a two-week drop, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services said today.

First-time claims were asked by 17,128 persons for the week ending Aug. 23 compared to 16,993 the week before and an average of 11,539 during a week in August 1974.

Continued claims dropped for a sixth week, the bureau estimated.

And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Ephesians 4:32.

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Luke 6:37.

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Andrae Crouch and the Disciples, America's top soul Gospel Singing Group, will appear at the East High School, East Broad Street, Columbus, 8 p.m. Saturday.

Advance tickets are available at the Christian Book and Gift Store, 7½ E. Town St., Columbus, or at the door.

Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. John 14:6.

If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. Luke 9:23.

Labor Day Camp Begins Tonight

The 1975 Stoutsville Labor Day Camp begins 7:30 p.m. tonight at the campground located seven miles east of Circleville on Stoutsville Pike, and continues through 2 p.m. Monday.

Bible teachers speaking each day include the Rev. Glenn Crabtree, 10 a.m. Saturday; Rev. Melvin Maxwell, 10:30 a.m. Sunday and the Rev. Charles Williams, 10 a.m. Monday.

Other services are scheduled for 1:30

and 7:30 p.m. Saturday; 2 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 2 p.m. Monday.

The Gospel Harmony Boys, nationally known Gospel Singers from Huntington, W. Va., will provide special music in each of the services. A special Gospel Sing Festival is slated for 2 p.m. both Sunday and Monday.

Children's meetings are planned for 10 a.m. Saturday through Monday and Youth Meetings for 6:15 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The Rev. Richard Frasure is president of the Stoutsville Camp-meeting Association.

Lancaster Sets Closing Camp Services

A Communion and Memorial Service 10:30 a.m. Sunday officiated by the Rev. F. Stanton Smith and Rev. Roy Ballard will highlight the closing week at the Lancaster United Methodist Campground, 2151 W. Fair Ave.

Smith was appointed superintendent of the Campground in 1973. A native of Licking County, Smith is a graduate of Newark High School, attended Ohio University and prepared for the ministry at Garrett Biblical Institute.

Ballard retired as pastor of the Nelsonville United Methodist Church in 1974. He and his wife reside on the campground.

The movie, "Sound of the Trumpet" will be shown at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

A Labor Day picnic will be held at noon Monday at the Youth Lodge and a Pancake Supper is set for 5-7 p.m. Sept. 6 at Creighton Corner.

Jobless Claims Show Mixture

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Initial claims for unemployment benefits from the state rose last week after a two-week drop, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services said today.

First-time claims were asked by 17,128 persons for the week ending Aug. 23 compared to 16,993 the week before and an average of 11,539 during a week in August 1974.

Continued claims dropped for a sixth week, the bureau estimated.

And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Ephesians 4:32.

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Luke 6:37.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

A glance at the calendar this morning revealed that the summer is on its way out and fall is just waiting for it to move over.

So this means that it's time for the "old prognosticator" to put his "brilliant mind" to work and let people know what is going to happen on the college and professional gridirons when autumn leaves start to fall.

The first step in undertaking a large responsibility like this is to pull the cork on our bottle of Old Bushmills Irish and gargle with it—This is to make sure that we don't become ill from the strain of the heavy load we bear—And we are sure that it works because we have yet to come down with a case of the Bubonic Plague.

Let's start out with a look at the Big Ten. We think that the championship could be decided on Sept. 13 when the Ohio State Buckeyes travel to Michigan State in the season opener. Michigan has to be powerful again but the winner on Sept. 13 just might take it all.

Oklahoma looks like a sure bet in the Big Eight but Nebraska could give them a little trouble.

There should be a real battle in the Southwest Conference with Texas A & M getting a slim nod over Texas, Texas Tech and Arkansas.

In the Pacific Eight, we feel that California is going to end the reign of Southern Cal and be the Rose Bowl Representative.

We have to stick with Bear Bryant and his Crimson Tide in the Southeastern Conference but Mississippi State could upset the apple cart.

We feel that it will be Washington in the National Football Eastern Division with the Cardinals being the darkhorse. In the NFC Central Division, the Minnesota Vikings are still the power but the Green Bay Packers just might have found their shining "Starr".

The LA Rams should win the NFC West in a breeze with San Francisco taking second.

A look at the American Football Conference shows that the Eastern Division should be as tight as a wet pair of Levis. But we have to go with the "Juice" and pick Buffalo over the rest of the field. In the Central Division, we'll stay with the Steelers because we believe in the old saying "stay with the champ until they are no longer champ"—But look out for the Bengals who are coming on strong. It should be a walk for Oakland in the Western Division with Denver running second.

Well, that's the way we see them and that's the way we call them. Anyone who saves this column until the end of the season to see if we are right, is a "Fink"—Unless we are right—And then he is a genius.

Our "fearless" forecast—We predict that the above predictions could be the predictions to end all predictions.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Collegians Leading In Amateur Golf

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The 75th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, now closely resembling an NCAA tournament, will be trimmed to eight quarter-finalists after two rounds of match play today at the Country Club of Virginia's James River Course.

Two-thirds of the 32 survivors from Thursday's third round are collegians, and a couple other competitors are just out of high school. Only four of those still shooting for Sunday's 36-hole title round are 30 years of age or more.

Curtis Strange and Bob Byman of Wake Forest, Andy Bean of Florida, Arizona State's Phil Kenny and Keith Fergus of Houston were among the better-known college stars who advanced through the third round.

So did Stan Price of Pittsburgh and Barton Goodwin of Rice, both of whom had gained notoriety Wednesday with major upsets.

Other winners included Roane Puett of Austin, Tex., at 42 now the oldest survivor after he disposed of 59-year-old Bill Hyndman 1 up in 19 holes, and 18-year-old Wayne DeFrancesco of McLean, Va.

In addition to Hyndman, the 1955 runner-up on the same course, the only other former runners-up, John Grace of Fort Worth, Tex., and Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., also were eliminated.

With the only two former champions, Vinny Giles of Richmond and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., knocked out earlier, the way has been cleared for new faces in the title round.

Strange, 20, from Virginia Beach, Va., who won the NCAA crown as a freshman, remained unsatisfied with his play after ousting John Jacobs IV of Riverside, Calif., 4 and 2.

But Strange, who broke the Eastern Amateur record by four strokes two weeks ago, won five consecutive holes on the back side, aided by a 120-foot eagle on the 13th green.

Byman, also 20, from Raleigh, N.C., routed Brian Shanks of Phoenix with his second straight 8 and 6 score.

Bean, a rugged 22-year-old L'il

Abner type from Lakeland, Fla., showed his strength by whacking a seven-iron shot 200 yards to the first green, and went on to whip Gary Jacobson of Minnetonka, Minn., 3 and 2.

Hambletonian Scheduled Saturday

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A couple of tuneup turns around the track today and 13 of the best 3-year-old trotters in the country will be ready for the most prestigious outing in harness racing — the Hambletonian Stakes.

Trainers of the two fillies and 11 colts entered in the 50th edition of the annual classic scheduled light early-morning workouts for their charges in final preparation for the Saturday event at the DuQuoin State Fair. The $232,192 purse is the largest ever offered.

Handlers of the 2-1 favorite, Bonefish, believe the bay colt's practice sessions this week have dispelled any doubts left over from his poor performance last Saturday in the Horseman's Futurity at Indianapolis.

There, Bonefish threw a shoe in the first heat and broke stride in the second to finish eighth and fifth.

Stanley Dancer, Bonefish's part owner and trainer-driver, is confident his horse is the best, and points to a 1:58.2-5 season fastest mile to back him up. Not even Bonefish's poor starting position — he'll be ninth on the 10-horse front tier — seems to bother Dancer.

"It you've got the best horse," he said, "then post position is no handicap." Dancer's confidence notwithstanding, one can't help but recall that dark horses have upset the favorite in the past two Hambletonians and at least four relatively untouted entries this year have a chance to make it three in a row.

Gullett, Reds Blank Cards, 4-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Gullett of Cincinnati says he's "not 100 per cent yet," while Mike Garman of St. Louis may never be the same.

Gullett, the young, Cincinnati Reds lefthander, fired a five-hit, 4-0 shutout Thursday night—his first since May 31—for his fourth straight victory over the St. Louis Cardinals this year.

Now 11-3 for the season, Gullett has a 13-3 career record against the Cards. St. Louis hasn't scored a run off Gullett in 14 innings, losing twice in the past 11 days.

Gullett remains unimpressed with his mastery over the Cards.

"I have no reason for my success against them. It's just one of those things," said Gullett, who hasn't lost since May 20. He owns a seven-game winning streak that was interrupted by nine weeks of enforced inactivity due to a broken thumb.

His quick return fuels hopes for the rampaging Reds, who aim to end the frustrations of 35 years without a world championship.

Gullett feels he has a way to go yet. "As far as endurance, I'm pretty well there," said Gullett, who has a 76-40 career record at age 24—the winningest start ever by a major league pitcher.

"But my arm's not 100 per cent. I still have a little way to go."

Gullett got all the help he needed when lightly-regarded Darrel Chaney cracked a solo homer in the fifth inning, snapping the scoreless deadlock. Cards starter Bob Forsch had limited the Reds to one hit through five innings before tearing skin on the middle finger of his pitching hand. He yielded to Garman, who was greeted by Chaney's line drive homer down the right field line.

It was only the seventh homer of Chaney's career, and second this week.

"I'm not weak," deadpanned Chaney afterwards. "I once had 23 homers in one season down in Asheville, N.C. But the air is pretty thin down there."

The homer gave him 21 runs batted in for the season, a career high.

"I just try to fill a gap," said Chaney, a .216 hitter who was filling in as shortstop for Dave Concepcion.

"It used to bother me before when reporters always ask me how I liked riding the bench. But now I know what my job is. I just try to contribute something," said the veteran utility player.

Chaney's belt came off reliever Mike Garman, 3-5, who gnashed his teeth over the gopher pitch.

"It's a heck of a way to get a loss. If I faced him another 100 times he'd never get another homer off me. I'll give him credit for it, but the odds are way against him," said Garman.

Then he shook it off. "We'll still take three out of four from them," he said.

The Reds jumped on Al Hrabowsky for three runs in the seventh. Ken Griffey tripled in a run and scored on a wild pitch. Johnny Bench drove in the other with a single after walks to Joe Morgan and Tony Perez, who saw his 18-game hitting streak snapped.

Gary Nolan, 11-8, faces the Cards' Lynn McGlothlen, 13-9, tonight.

It's a funny thing, this relationship between fastballs and Bobby Bonds.

On Wednesday night, with New York trailing Oakland by a run in the ninth inning and two Yankees on base, Rollie Fingers slipped a pair of fastballs past Bonds for a critical strikeout and the A's won 3-2.

Clearly the way to beat Bonds is to fastball him, right?

Wrong. In the sixth inning Thursday night, with Chris Chambliss aboard

Eagles Turn Back Bengals, 30-20

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "The Eagles obviously came to play and did a good job on us," said Cincinnati Bengals Coach Brown after his team lost to Philadelphia 30-20 in exhibition play Thursday night.

Brown said he gave up a field goal opportunity in the first quarter because he was confident he could get six points, but the Eagles held.

Philadelphia quarterback Mike Boryla was the star of the game and his performance has tossed Eagles Coach Mike McCormack, into a happy dilemma.

The 24-year-old Boryla has McCormack "thinking" about who's the No. 1 quarterback of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Chris Evert Goes After Clay Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Evert's credentials as a clay court player are so convincing after only one match at Forest Hills that even she is confident of capturing her first U.S. Open crown. "I feel eager," Miss Evert said. "This is the only title I haven't won outside of the Australian Open. I have a pretty good chance."

She won her 76th straight match on clay by a 6-1, 6-0 count at the expense of Australian Lesley Hunt Thursday night. The string, which covers 15 tournaments, stretches back to 1973.

"I'm at home on clay," said the top-seeded Miss Evert, who grew up on the powdery stuff in Florida. "I'm confident on clay. It's easier to run. I'm still not that confident on grass. I'm afraid I'll fall on my face."

She has done well on grass. She won Wimbledon last year after battling Miss Hunt through 46 games in the second round. On the grass that was here last year, and on the lush lawn of Wimbledon this year, she lasted until the semifinals.

Miss Evert and Jimmy Connors led 14 seeded players into the second round after Thursday's day-night action, which drew a total crowd of 20,310.

Connors began defense of his title with a 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Geoff Masters although he blew 3-0 leads in each set.

Westfall To Hold Annual Roundup

Westfall High School will hold its annual Roundup Monday at the high school.

The Westfall Booster Club will sell fish sandwiches from 4:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. The Westfall marching band will present a brief program and the football team, cheerleaders and girls volleyball team will be introduced.

Boryla started his first game of the 1975 National Football League preseason Thursday night.

Boryla showed imagination, precision, leadership. He did everything a coach could ask, unless McCormack would like his second-year quarterback to lead the band at halftime.

Since joining the Eagles last year Boryla has started four games. He took over last season when the veteran Roman Gabriel was benched because of a six-game losing streak. Boryla quarterbacked three season-closing triumphs.

This preseason the Eagles showed almost no offense despite two previous wins in three games. So, McCormack turned to Boryla. He said he'd use the youngster for the first half.

After Boryla threw two touchdown passes and had the Eagles in front 14-13 at halftime, McCormack ditched his plan and let him go the route. Boryla completed 15 of 26 passes for 208 yards. He led time-consuming second half drives that resulted in three field goals by Horst Muhlmann.

The entire game may have turned in the first period when the Eagles' defense held the Bengals four times on the Philadelphia one yard line. The Eagles took over at the six after a delaying-the-game penalty against Cincinnati.

Cincinnati scored first to take a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on a 20-yard touchdown pass from quarterback John Reaves to tight end Bob Trumphy. The Eagles came back to go ahead 14-6 on Boryla TD aeriels to Charli Young (26 yards) and Harold Carmichael (three yards). The Bengals sliced it to 14-13 at halftime on another Reaves to Trumphy scorer (five yards).

In the second half, the Eagles created a break when rookie linebacker Tom Ehlers blocked a punt, which defensive end Will Wynn ran two yards for a score. A bad snap from center on a fourth down punt set the Bengals up at the Eagles' 12, and Lenvil Elliott ran seven to make it 21-20. Three fourth period field goals by Horst Muhlmann (30, 24, 44) padded the Eagles' victory margin.

Reaves, who was traded to the Bengals by the Eagles, did a fine first half job for Cincinnati. He completed 11 of 15 for 190 yards and two TDs. Reaves said he had some problems with the center exchange, which cost the Bengals the ball at the 11 in the first quarter. Cincinnati had to use a guard at center because of an injury.

Local Horse Captures Eighth At Scioto

Jerry MacPherson, owned by the estate of Forrest Short, and Harry L. Short, Aiken, S.C., won the eighth race at Scioto Downs Thursday night.

The bay horse, driven by Russ Baldwin, paced the mile in 2:03.3 and paid $3.80, $2.80 and $2.40.

RIGHT ANGLER—Ted Grey of Williamsport holds a shovelhead catfish he caught on a rod and reel in Deer Creek. The big fish weighed 20 pounds and was 31 inches long.

with a walk, Ken Holtzman tried to slip a fast one past Bonds. It wound up bouncing off the right-center field fence for a run-scoring double.

Okay, so the way to beat Bonds is not to fastball him, right?

Wrong again. With two outs in the eighth inning, Holtzman hit Ed Brinkman with a pitch. Up came Bonds, and out to the mound went Oakland Manager Alvin Dark. "Don't throw him any fastballs," he told Holtzman.

So Holtzman wound up and threw him a change-up. It wound up far beyond the leftcenter field wall, Bonds' 25th homer, a two-run shot that catapulted the Yankees to a 3-2 victory.

In the only other American League game Thursday night, Baltimore beat Chicago 2-1. In the National League, Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 4-0, Philadelphia downed San Francisco 8-5, New York defeated Los Angeles 4-1 and Montreal outlasted San Diego 10-8.

Orioles 2, White Sox 1
Baltimore's Mike Cuellar, usually a "junkman" on the mound, discovered his blazer and used it to stymie the White Sox on five hits.

"I found out during my warmups that my fastball was working so I decided to see how far that would take me," said Cuellar, who usually relies on slow-speed and breaking pitches.

Run-scoring singles by Ellie Hendricks in the second inning and Don Baylor in the fifth gave him the runs Baltimore needed to trim Boston's lead in the AL East to 6½ games.

Phillies 8, Giants 5

Philadelphia moved into a tie with the Cards by battering four San Francisco pitchers for 17 hits. Garry Maddox' triple and doubles by Mike Schmidt and Johnny Oates were the key hits in the Phils' three-run sixth.

Mets 4, Dodgers 1

The Mets stayed close in the NL East race, moving within 4½ games of the Pirates. Mike Vail's tie-breaking single in a two-run fifth inning, Del Unser's two-run homer in the seventh and Jerry Koosman's eight-hit, 10-strikeout pitching carried them past the Dodgers.

Expos 10, Padres 8

Nate Colbert, Bob Bailey and Gary Carter each drove in two Montreal runs to offset Willie McCovey's three-run homer and Tito Fuentes' two RBI for the Padres.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

A glance at the calendar this morning revealed that the summer is on its way out and fall is just waiting for it to move over.

So this means that it's time for the "old prognosticator" to put his "brilliant mind" to work and let people know what is going to happen on the college and professional grids when autumn leaves start to fall.

The first step in undertaking a large responsibility like this is to pull the cork on our bottle of Old Bushmills Irish and gargle with it—This is to make sure that we don't become ill from the strain of the heavy load we bear—And we are sure that it works because we have yet to come down with a case of the Bubonic Plague.

Let's start out with a look at the Big Ten. We think that the championship could be decided on Sept. 13 when the Ohio State Buckeyes travel to Michigan State in the season opener. Michigan has to be powerful again but the winner on Sept. 13 just might take it all.

Oklahoma looks like a sure bet in the Big Eight but Nebraska could give them a little trouble.

There should be a real battle in the Southwest Conference with Texas A & M getting a slim nod over Texas, Texas Tech and Arkansas.

In the Pacific Eight, we feel that California is going to end the reign of Southern Cal and be the Rose Bowl Representative.

We have to stick with Bear Bryant and his Crimson Tide in the Southeastern Conference but Mississippi State could upset the apple cart.

We feel that it will be Washington in the National Football Eastern Division with the Cardinals being the darkhorse. In the NFC Central Division, the Minnesota Vikings are still the power but the Green Bay Packers just might have found their shining "Starr".

The LA Rams should win the NFC West in a breeze with San Francisco taking second.

A look at the American Football Conference shows that the Eastern Division should be as tight as a wet pair of Levis. But we have to go with the "Juice" and pick Buffalo over the rest of the field. In the Central Division, we'll stay with the Steelers because we believe in the old saying "stay with the champ until they are no longer champ"—But look out for the Bengals who are coming on strong. It should be a walk for Oakland in the Western Division with Denver running second.

Well, that's the way we see them and that's the way we call them. Anyone who saves this column until the end of the season to see if we are right, is a "Fink"—Unless we are right—And then he is a genius.

Our "fearless" forecast—We predict that the above predictions could be the predictions to end all predictions.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Collegians Leading In Amateur Golf

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The 75th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, now closely resembling an NCAA tournament, will be trimmed to eight quarter-finalists after two rounds of match play today at the Country Club of Virginia's James River Course.

Two-thirds of the 32 survivors from Thursday's third round are collegians, and a couple other competitors are just out of high school. Only four of those still shooting for Sunday's 36-hole title round are 30 years of age or more.

Curtis Strange and Bob Byman of Wake Forest, Andy Bean of Florida, Arizona State's Phil Kenny and Keith Fergus of Houston were among the better-known college stars who advanced through the third round.

So did Stan Price of Pittsburgh and Barton Goodwin of Rice, both of whom had gained notoriety Wednesday with major upsets.

Other winners included Roane Puett of Austin, Tex., at 42 now the oldest survivor after he disposed of 59-year-old Bill Hyndman 1 up in 19 holes, and 18-year-old Wayne DeFrancesco of McLean, Va.

In addition to Hyndman, the 1955 runner-up on the same course, the only other former runners-up, John Grace of Fort Worth, Tex., and Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., also were eliminated.

With the only two former champions, Vinny Giles of Richmond and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., knocked out earlier, the way has been cleared for new faces in the title round.

Strange, 20, from Virginia Beach, Va., who won the NCAA crown as a freshman, remained unsatisfied with his play after ousting John Jacobs IV of Riverside, Calif., 4 and 2.

But Strange, who broke the Eastern Amateur record by four strokes two weeks ago, won five consecutive holes on the back side, aided by a 120-foot eagle on the 13th green.

Byman, also 20, from Raleigh, N.C., routed Brian Shanks of Phoenix with his second straight 8 and 6 score.

Bean, a rugged 22-year-old L'il

Abner type from Lakeland, Fla., showed his strength by whacking a seven-iron shot 200 yards to the first green, and went on to whip Gary Jacobson of Minnetonka, Minn., 3 and 2.

Hambletonian Scheduled Saturday

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A couple of tuneup turns around the track today and 13 of the best 3-year-old trotters in the country will be ready for the most prestigious outing in harness racing — the Hambletonian Stakes.

Trainers of the two fillies and 11 colts entered in the 50th edition of the annual classic scheduled light early-morning workouts for their charges in final preparation for the Saturday event at the DuQuoin State Fair. The $232,192 purse is the largest ever offered.

Handlers of the 2-1 favorite, Bonefish, believe the bay colt's practice sessions this week have dispelled any doubts left over from his poor performance last Saturday in the Horseman's Futurity at Indianapolis.

There, Bonefish threw a shoe in the first heat and broke stride in the second to finish eighth and fifth.

Stanley Dancer, Bonefish's part owner and trainer-driver, is confident his horse is the best, and points to a 1:58 2-5 season fastest mile to back him up. Not even Bonefish's poor starting position — he'll be ninth on the 10-horse front tier — seems to bother Dancer.

"It you've got the best horse," he said, "then post position is no handicap."

Dancer's confidence notwithstanding, one can't help but recall that dark horses have upset the favorite in the past two Hambletonians and at least four relatively untouted entries this year have a chance to make it three in a row.

Gullett, Reds Blank Cards, 4-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Gullett of Cincinnati says he's "not 100 per cent yet," while Mike Garman of St. Louis may never be the same.

Gullett, the young, Cincinnati Reds lefthander, fired a five-hit, 4-0 shutout Thursday night—his first since May 31—for his fourth straight victory over the St. Louis Cardinals this year.

Now 11-3 for the season, Gullett has a 13-3 career record against the Cards. St. Louis hasn't scored a run off Gullett in 14 innings, losing twice in the past 11 days.

Gullett remains unimpressed with his mastery over the Cards.

"I have no reason for my success against them. It's just one of those things," said Gullett, who hasn't lost since May 20. He owns a seven-game winning streak that was interrupted by nine weeks of enforced inactivity due to a broken thumb.

His quick return fuels hopes for the rampaging Reds, who aim to end the frustrations of 35 years without a world championship.

Gullett feels he has a way to go yet. "As far as endurance, I'm pretty well there," said Gullett, who has a 76-40 career record at age 24—the winningest start ever by a major league pitcher.

"But my arm's not 100 per cent. I still have a little way to go."

Gullett got all the help he needed when lightly-regarded Darrel Chaney cracked a solo homer in the fifth inning, snapping the scoreless deadlock. Cards starter Bob Forsch had limited the Reds to one hit through five innings before tearing skin on the middle finger of his pitching hand. He yielded to Garman, who was greeted by Chaney's line drive homer down the right field line.

It was only the seventh homer of Chaney's career, and second this week.

"I'm not weak," deadpanned Chaney afterwards. "I once had 23 homers in one season down in Asheville, N.C.. But the air is pretty thin down there."

The homer gave him 21 runs batted in for the season, a career high.

"I just try to fill a gap," said Chaney, a .216 hitter who was filling in as shortstop for Dave Concepcion.

"It used to bother me before when reporters always ask me how I liked riding the bench. But now I know what my job is. I just try to contribute something," said the veteran utility player.

Chaney's belt came off reliever Mike Garman, 3-5, who gnashed his teeth over the gopher pitch.

"It's a heck of a way to get a loss. If I faced him another 100 times he'd never get another homer off me. I'll give him credit for it, but the odds are way against him," said Garman.

Then he shook it off. "We'll still take three out of four from them," he said.

The Reds jumped on Al Hrabowsky for three runs in the seventh. Ken Griffey tripled in a run and scored on a wild pitch. Johnny Bench drove in the other with a single after walks to Joe Morgan and Tony Perez, who saw his 18-game hitting streak snapped.

Gary Nolan, 11-8, faces the Cards' Lynn McGlothlen, 13-9, tonight.

It's a funny thing, this relationship between fastballs and Bobby Bonds.

On Wednesday night, with New York trailing Oakland by a run in the ninth inning and two Yankees on base, Rollie Fingers slipped a pair of fastballs past Bonds for a critical strikeout and the A's won 3-2.

Clearly the way to beat Bonds is to fastball him, right?

Wrong. In the sixth inning Thursday night, with Chris Chambliss aboard with a walk, Ken Holtzman tried to slip a fast one past Bonds. It wound up bouncing off the right-center field fence for a run-scoring double.

Okay, so the way to beat Bonds is not to fastball him, right?

Wrong again. With two outs in the eighth inning, Holtzman hit Ed Brinkman with a pitch. Up came Bonds, and out to the mound went Oakland Manager Alvin Dark. "Don't throw him any fastballs," he told Holtzman.

So Holtzman wound up and threw him a change-up. It wound up far beyond the left-center field wall, Bonds' 25th homer, a two-run shot that catapulted the Yankees to a 3-2 victory.

In the only other American League game Thursday night, Baltimore beat Chicago 2-1. In the National League, Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 4-0, Philadelphia downed San Francisco 8-5, New York defeated Los Angeles 4-1 and Montreal outlasted San Diego 10-8.

Baltimore's Mike Cuellar, usually a "junkman" on the mound, discovered his blazer and used it to stymie the White Sox on five hits.

Run-scoring singles by Ellie Hendricks in the second inning and Don Baylor in the fifth gave him the runs Baltimore needed to trim Boston's lead in the AL East to 6½ games.

Phillies 8, Giants 5

Philadelphia moved into a tie with the Cards by battering four San Francisco pitchers for 17 hits. Gary Maddox' triple and doubles by Mike Schmidt and Johnny Oates were the key hits in the Phils' three-run sixth.

Mets 4, Dodgers 1

The Mets stayed close in the NL East race, moving within 4½ games of the Pirates. Mike Vail's tie-breaking single in a two-run fifth inning, Del Unser's two-run homer in the seventh and Jerry Koosman's eight-hit, 10-strikeout pitching carried them past the Dodgers.

Expos 10, Padres 8

Nate Colbert, Bob Bailey and Gary Carter each drove in two Montreal runs to offset Willie McCovey's three-run homer and Tito Fuentes' two RBI for the Padres.

Muskie Anglers Patient Men

By JIM DAUBEL
Written for Associated Press
Few fishermen are willing to work 75 to 100 hours to catch a single fish, and that suits serious muskie anglers just fine.

Muskie men, though not loners, do not consider their specialized pursuit a spectacular sport. They fish hard and long, and are not inclined to be generous with their secrets.

Muskellunge rank among Ohio's most elusive game fish. They are neither widely distributed in the state nor superabundant in waters where they are found.

They are moody fish. Any experienced muskie fisherman can relate stories of trophy fish following a lure to boatside, there to glow at the angler while he moves the bait in futile figure eights under the muskie's nose.

The best-kept secrets in the select fraternity of muskie chasers are where the fish are found. Muskies are territorial fish that prefer specific haunts. Fishermen who work hard to find those spots may catch muskies there time and again, and they are tight-lipped about the locations.

Although data are not current in Ohio, long-time Buckeye fishermen and statistics from other states indicate that it takes 75 to 100 hours to catch one muskie.

The success ratio was better than that over a recent weekend when 395 fishermen descended on Rocky Ford Lake near Hillsboro in southern Ohio for the fifth annual Huskie Muskie Club tournament.

Twenty-one muskies were caught by those registered in one and one-half days of fishing. The largest was 17 pounds, although wildlife officials reported hearing of one 35-pounder taken but not recorded in the tournament.

Ohio may not be nationally recognized among the top muskie states, but catch records suggest that it deserves better ranking.

The Ohio muskie record, for example, is a 55-pound, twoounce lunker caught in Piedmont Lake in 1972. It is the fourth largest muskie on record anywhere, and was the biggest taken in the United States that year.

Leesville Lake in Carroll County is certainly among the state's best. Of 32 fish over 20 pounds recognized by the Huskie Muskie Club in 1974, 10 came from Leesville.

Among the better producers, said Jack Erickson, wild life division fish biologist, are Rocky Ford Lake in Highland County, Clear Fork in Richland County and Piedmont in Belmont County, which with Leesville is in the Muskingum Conservancy District of eastern Ohio.

Best fishing methods this time of year are trolling or casting deep-diving plugs like the Mud Bug or Bomber at least three to six inches long, Erickson said.

Half the fish taken in the recent tournament were caught on plugs trolled in about 10 feet of water, he said.

Add Hunting Grounds Along Lake Erie

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Wildlife Council has added some 1,200 acres of goose and duck hunting grounds on the Lake Erie shoreline.

The eight-member council also set split seasons for hunting the waterfowl when it added the 1,211-acre area near Oregon in Lucas County to state-owned lands designated as public hunting areas.

The first segment of the duck season will be from Oct. 22 to Dec. 3, and the second segment Dec. 31 through Jan. 6, 1976.

The goose season will be from Oct. 22 through Dec. 23, and Dec. 31 through Jan. 6, 1976.

Football Cardinals Have Problems

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "That's what it's for, to find out what they can do in a clutch situation," St. Louis Cardinals Coach Don Coryell said of the exhibition schedule.

Coryell has discovered twice to his dismay what may be lacking in Cardinal defensive reserve, but still retains his optimism for the 1975 National Football League season.

And well he should. Despite their 1-2 record and absence of offensive continuity, the Cards still have many plusses, including the ambition to repeat as National Conference East champs.

"Last year nobody really expected us to get where we did," noted quarterback Jim Hart, who in 1974 pitched 20 touchdown passes and earned All-NFC honors.

A skilled array of St. Louis offensive talent headed by Hart, running star Terry Metcalf and fleet wide receiver Mel Gray may scarcely need improvement.

But Coryell, whose energy helped manufacture the club's first title last fall in 27 years, thinks his young offensive line may be an even bigger key.

Dove Seasons Approved By Judge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two hunting seasons for mourning doves will go on as planned beginning Monday following a judge's ruling that the state wildlife division followed procedures to establish the season for the first time.

Knox County Judge Charles Ayers, sitting in Lucas County Common Pleas Court, ruled Thursday in a suit brought by a preservationist that the dove hunting season was properly set by the Department of Natural Resources which had the authority by legislative mandate.

Following Ayers' ruling, Charles Bloom, attorney for the preservationist, said on behalf of his client that he would drop further court action at this time.

A request for an order to stop the hunting season was made by Lawrence Hyter of Toledo, a member of the Fund for Animals, Inc., earlier this month after the state attorney general issued an opinion that the season was improperly instituted.

The attorney general told the state Division of Wildlife that it failed to follow state rulemaking procedures in establishing the season and a new rule would have to be adopted. He said the department did not hold public hearings on the dove issue before the hunting season order was issued.

The natural resources department insisted its manner was proper and indicated it would go on with the two scheduled dove hunting seasons—Sept. 1 to Oct. 17 and Nov. 14 to Dec. 6—despite the attorney general's voluntary opinion.

Tom Brahoney are just coming into their own," Coryell said of the Cards' right guard and center.

"The offensive line just had a great season last year," he added. "If the line continues to improve, I have to think our whole team can improve."

Outstanding among the linemen is Dan Dierdorf, who at 26 has emerged as one of the NFL's strongest blockers at his right tackle position.

And lending guidance to such youngsters as Greg Kindle and J. V. Cain are inveterate Ernie McMillan, a tackle, and ferocious tight end Jackie Smith.

The Cardinal line last year permitted opponents to trap Hart for losses only 16 times, the low figure in the NFL.

Hart responded to such protection by passing with 55.6 per cent accuracy, a team record, and Metcalf knifed through holes created by blocks for 718 yards on runs.

A bevy of backs vying to accompany Metcalf is headed by Jim Otis, who blossomed last season as a ramrod threat inside.

Among defenders in the Cards' secondary the competition for posts is not less spirited for positions behind Roger Wehrli, Ken Reeves and Norm Thompson.

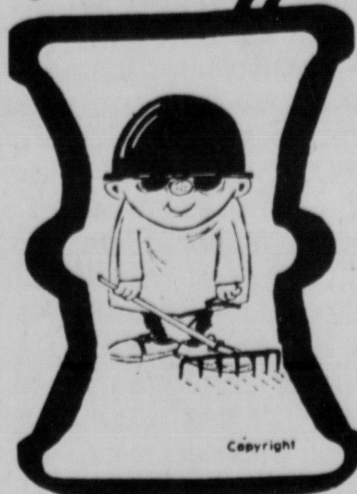

Rivaling Jim Tolbert and Dwayne Crump for the backup spots are newcomers Tim Gray, the club's top draft choice last winter, and Durwood Keeton, who spent last season with the World Football League's Southern California Sun.

No less fierce is bidding at linebacker, where Mark Arneson is flanked by Pete Barnes and Larry Stallings, while Greg Hartle and Jack LeVeck have both looked strong.

"Our defense made great improvement last year," noted Coryell, who may have less than desired depth to back a front defensive four listing Bob Rowe, Leo Brooks, Bob Bell and Ron Yankowski.

NFL Pact Dispute Remains Unsettled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The end may be in sight in the long National Football League dispute over a new players' contract. But then again, it may be just the beginning of another phase.

The NFL Players Association membership will vote next Friday on any management offer presented by Monday under a decision made by the union's executive council and disclosed Thursday.

If the players vote to accept the offer — which has not been announced yet — then the contract dispute is for all intents and purposes resolved.

However, should the players reject the management offer, the executive committee would then return to the bargaining table for further negotiations which have dragged on for 1½ years since the old collective bargaining agreement expired.

Ed Garvey, union executive director, told newsman Thursday that the vote Friday would not be a "strike vote."

"If they reject it, they are telling management they want a better offer," said Garvey.

The association's player representatives met in Chicago Monday and voted unanimously to submit to the membership without recommendation of any proposal that was on the table as of next Monday.

"This dispute has dragged on for well over a year and a half and the board (player reps) is anxious to have the matter resolved," said Garvey. "Since the owners have been unwilling to come forward with a complete proposal, we felt that by setting the first of September as the deadline for an offer to be submitted to the players, the owners would be encouraged to bargain with the players' negotiating committee. The vote will be taken on the fifth of September."

Garvey said representatives of the NFL Management Council, the owners' bargaining agent, met with union officials after the player rep meeting and "indicated a full proposal would be forthcoming prior to or on the 1st of September."

He said union president Kermit Alexander explained it would be submitted to the membership for a vote and "suggested that they give it their 'best shot.'"

In New York, a management council representative said the owners were still considering what action to take and could make a decision today.

The players have been without a collective bargaining agreement since March 31, 1974, when the old pact expired. The players held a 42-day strike last year but returned to play the season.

Rick Cerone Doing Well For Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — A lot of baseball people are watching Rick Cerone and the rookie catcher for the Cleveland Indians is feeling some pressure.

"But I like playing under pressure," the youngster from Seton Hall University said. "When you have some extra pressure on you, it makes you bear down a little more...keeps you concentrating and thinking."

Cerone, 21, was the No. 1 pick in the 1975 free agent draft in June. He was drafted while he and his teammates from Seton Hall were playing in the College World Series.

Two months later, he's in the major leagues, the result of an injury which placed veteran Cleveland catcher John Ellis on the 15-day disabled list.

"I think it's a little soon for me to be producing up here. What I mean, is that it took me four weeks at Oklahoma City to get used to the pitching," he hastened to explain. "I've been in four games since I've been up here, so I haven't really expected that much."

Cerone was hitting only .250 with two home runs and 13 runs batted in in 46 games at Oklahoma City, Cleveland's Triple-A affiliate in the American Association.

But, from Aug. 1 until he was called up Aug. 15, Cerone had 16 hits in 39 trips to the plate and was on a 10-game hitting string.

"It's tough to get up for games every day at Oklahoma City, but up here it's been pretty easy. And I think the difference in the pitching that I've seen so far is right up here," Cerone said pointing to his head. "The pitchers in the major leagues are smarter."

Muskie Anglers Patient Men

By JIM DAUBEL

Written for Associated Press

Few fishermen are willing to work 75 to 100 hours to catch a single fish, and that suits serious muskie anglers just fine.

Muskie men, though not loners, do not consider their specialized pursuit a spectacular sport. They fish hard and long, and are not inclined to be generous with their secrets.

Muskellunge rank among Ohio's most elusive game fish. They are neither widely distributed in the state nor superabundant in waters where they are found.

They are moody fish. Any experienced muskie fisherman can relate stories of trophy fish following a lure to boatside, there to glower at the angler while he moves the bait in futile figure eights under the muskie's nose.

The best-kept secrets in the select fraternity of muskie chasers are where the fish are found. Muskies are territorial fish that prefer specific haunts. Fishermen who work hard to find those spots may catch muskies there time and again, and they are tight-lipped about the locations.

Although data are not current in Ohio, long-time Buckeye fishermen and statistics from other states indicate that it takes 75 to 100 hours to catch one muskie.

The success ratio was better than that over a recent weekend when 395 fishermen descended on Rocky Ford Lake near Hillsboro in southern Ohio for the fifth annual Huskie Muskie Club tournament.

Twenty-one muskies were caught by those registered in one and one-half days of fishing. The largest was 17 pounds, although wildlife officials reported hearing of one 35-pounder taken but not recorded in the tournament.

Ohio may not be nationally recognized among the top muskie states, but catch records suggest that it deserves better ranking.

The Ohio muskie record, for example, is a 55-pound, twoounce lunker caught in Piedmont Lake in 1972. It is the fourth largest muskie on record anywhere, and was the biggest taken in the United States that year.

Leesville Lake in Carroll County is certainly among the state's best. Of 32 fish over 20 pounds recognized by the Huskie Muskie Club in 1974, 10 came from Leesville.

Among the better producers, said Jack Erickson, wild life division fish biologist, are Rocky Ford Lake in Highland County, Clear Fork in Richland County and Piedmont in Belmont County, which with Leesville is in the Muskingum Conservancy District of eastern Ohio.

Best fishing methods this time of year are trolling or casting deep-diving plugs like the Mud Bug or Bomber at least three to six inches long, Erickson said.

Half the fish taken in the recent tournament were caught on plugs trolled in about 10 feet of water, he said.

Add Hunting Grounds Along Lake Erie

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Wildlife Council has added some 1,200 acres of goose and duck hunting grounds on the Lake Erie shoreline.

The eight-member council also set split seasons for hunting the waterfowl when it added the 1,211-acre area near Oregon in Lucas County to state-owned lands designated as public hunting areas.

The first segment of the duck season will be from Oct. 22 to Dec. 3, and the second segment Dec. 31 through Jan. 6, 1976.

The goose season will be from Oct. 22 through Dec. 23, and Dec. 31 through Jan. 6, 1976.

Football Cardinals Have Problems

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "That's what it's for, to find out what they can do in a clutch situation," St. Louis Cardinals Coach Don Coryell said of the exhibition schedule.

Coryell has discovered twice to his dismay what may be lacking in Cardinal defensive reserve, but still retains his optimism for the 1975 National Football League season.

And well he should. Despite their 1-2 record and absence of offensive continuity, the Cards still have many pluses, including the ambition to repeat as National Conference East champs.

"Last year nobody really expected us to get where we did," noted quarterback Jim Hart, who in 1974 pitched 20 touchdown passes and earned All-NFC honors.

A skilled array of St. Louis offensive talent headed by Hart, running star Terry Metcalf and fleet wide receiver Mel Gray may scarcely need improvement.

But Coryell, whose energy helped manufacture the club's first title last fall in 27 years, thinks his young offensive line may be an even bigger key.

Dove Seasons Approved By Judge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two hunting seasons for mourning doves will go on as planned beginning Monday following a judge's ruling that the state wildlife division followed procedures to establish the season for the first time.

Knox County Judge Charles Ayers, sitting in Lucas County Common Pleas Court, ruled Thursday in a suit brought by a preservationist that the dove hunting season was properly set by the Department of Natural Resources which had the authority by legislative mandate.

Following Ayers' ruling, Charles Bloom, attorney for the preservationist, said on behalf of his client that he would drop further court action at this time.

A request for an order to stop the hunting season was made by Lawrence Hyter of Toledo, a member of the Fund for Animals, Inc., earlier this month after the state attorney general issued an opinion that the season was improperly instituted.

The attorney general told the state Division of Wildlife that it failed to follow state rulemaking procedures in establishing the season and a new rule would have to be adopted. He said the department did not hold public hearings on the dove issue before the hunting season order was issued.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Work for top gains but do not expect them immediately. Be concise in arrangements, stipulations, speech. Narrow the margin for error!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Have faith in your objectives, confidence in your methods. Careful distribution of energies and unstinting use of your talents could lead to new gains.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): As with many others now, you may tend to slow down at unexpected moments, then accelerate your pace unwisely. Such sporadic efforts are not productive. Steady!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Scattering energies and apathy are the two extremes which could hamper success now. Follow a sound, middle-of-the-road policy and you can reap a fine harvest.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Whether you have little or much to do, your attitude and approach to all matters will be important — from the start. Stress your affability and charm.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This could be an outstanding day, but it will largely depend on you. Steady does it! Don't scatter energies, thus overtaxing yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): If you've been interested in a new project, but have postponed taking action on it, NOW is the time! But be sure you have the know-how and enough data to go on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Do not be upset by criticism. If constructive, it could actually show you new ways to capitalize on your inventiveness and skills.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): You, like Scorpio, can profit by both opposition and obstacles. Some new ideas could brighten your day, a new method perk up tedious but essential routine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A good outlook! Saturn encourages your fine talents, cleverness at discerning leads and new methods of value, smart action generally.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Even if time is short and there is much to be accomplished, give yourself enough time for efficient planning. A good day for revitalizing all interests.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Advance a new idea, enlist the help of others to put it across. Under prevailing influences, you should win new benefits, advance your status.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, a gregarious personality and a great thirst for knowledge. Your ideas are unique and are usually succeed because of the consistent, sturdy and clever effort you put back of them. You are extremely meticulous in handling details and sometimes drive yourself too hard in your quest for perfection. However, you are a philosopher at heart, and you do manage to ride over obstacles that would floor many others. Extremely versatile, there are many fields in which you could carve an eminent career but, notably, as writer, musician, actor, painter or educator. If attracted to the business world, you would make an excellent salesman or promotional expert. Birthdate of: David Hartley, philosopher.

NEW YORK (AP) — This year's Bold, New and Adventurous Programming award goes to ABC-TV, which says it'll start showing reruns of two hour-long private eye shows late Thursday nights, starting Oct. 2.

The sagas, bought for ABC's late-night "Wide World of Entertainment," are "Mannix," which CBS axed last spring after eight seasons, and "Longstreet," a 1971 ABC series about a blind gumshoe.

ABC isn't the first recipient of the Bold, New and Adventurous Programming award.

The first went to CBS a year ago when CBS said it had bought a batch of "NBC Sunday Mystery Movie" episodes for showing late at night after the shows' first and repeat prime-time runs on NBC were over.

ABC's move means that when Oct. 2 rolls around, there'll be a total of six Thursday night shows on that network which deal in one form or another with law and order.

Two are situation comedies, "Barney Miller" and "On the Rocks," a new show about funny convicts. Then come "Streets of San Francisco," "Harry O," "Mannix" and "Longstreet." There oughta be a law ...

A belated cheer to ABC's "AM America" show for its well-done tribute Wednesday to Cannonball Adderly, the great jazz saxophonist who died of a heart ailment this month at the age of 46.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Work for top gains but do not expect them immediately. Be concise in arrangements, stipulations, speech. Narrow the margin for error!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Have faith in your objectives, confidence in your methods. Careful distribution of energies and unstinting use of your talents could lead to new gains.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): As with many others now, you may tend to slow down at unexpected moments, then accelerate your pace unwisely. Such sporadic efforts are not productive. Steady!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Scattering energies and apathy are the two extremes which could hamper success now. Follow a sound, middle-of-the-road policy and you can reap a fine harvest.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Whether you have little or much to do, your attitude and approach to all matters will be important — from the start. Stress your affability and charm.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This could be an outstanding day, but it will largely depend on you. Steady does it! Don't scatter energies, thus overtaxing yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): If you've been interested in a new project, but have postponed taking action on it, NOW is the time! But be sure you have the know-how and enough data to go on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Do not be upset by criticism. If constructive, it could actually show you new ways to capitalize on your inventiveness and skills.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23): You, like Scorpio, can profit by both opposition and obstacles. Some new ideas could brighten your day, a new method perk up tedious but essential routine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20): A good outlook! Saturn encourages your fine talents, cleverness at discerning leads and new methods of value, smart action generally.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Even if time is short and there is much to be accomplished, give yourself enough time for efficient planning. A good day for revitalizing all interests.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Advance a new idea, enlist the help of others to put it across. Under prevailing influences, you should win new benefits, advance your status.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, a gregarious personality and a great thirst for knowledge. Your ideas are unique and are usually successful because of the consistent, sturdy and clever effort you put back of them. You are extremely meticulous in handling details and sometimes drive yourself too hard in your quest for perfection. However, you are a philosopher at heart, and you do manage to ride over obstacles that would floor many others. Extremely versatile, there are many fields in which you could carve an eminent career but, notably, as writer, musician, actor, painter or educator. If attracted to the business world, you would make an excellent salesman or promotional expert. Birthdate of: David Hartley, philosopher.

NEW YORK (AP) — This year's Bold, New and Adventurous Programming award goes to ABC-TV, which says it'll start showing reruns of two hour-long private eye shows late Thursday nights, starting Oct. 2.

The sagas, bought for ABC's late-night "Wide World of Entertainment," are "Mannix," which CBS axed last spring after eight seasons, and "Longstreet," a 1971 ABC series about a blind gumshoe.

ABC isn't the first recipient of the Bold, New and Adventurous Programming award.

The first went to CBS a year ago when CBS said it had bought a batch of "NBC Sunday Mystery Movie" episodes for showing late at night after the shows' first and repeat prime-time runs on NBC were over.

ABC's move means that when Oct. 2 rolls around, there'll be a total of six Thursday night shows on that network which deal in one form or another with law and order.

Two are situation comedies, "Barney Miller" and "On the Rocks," a new show about funny convicts. Then come "Streets of San Francisco," "Harry O," "Mannix" and "Longstreet." There oughta be a law ...

A belated cheer to ABC's "AM America" show for its well-done tribute Wednesday to Cannonball Adderly, the great jazz saxophonist who died of a heart ailment this month at the age of 46.

The tribute featured a musical salute by some longtime Adderly friends, among them singer Nancy Wilson, trumpeter Freddie Hubbard, saxophonist Jerome Richardson and pianist Vic Feldman. It was a nice gesture.

Comedian Jerry Lewis' annual Labor Day telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association kicks off from Las Vegas, Nev., this Sunday night at 9 p.m. EDT. It'll appear on 195 stations.

This year, Frank Sinatra is on the bill for not one but three appearances, each about 20 minutes, spokesmen for the show say.

The Sinatra shots all will be on Monday, between midnight and 1 a.m. EDT, 10 and 11 a.m., and between 4 and 5 p.m.

Keep an eye out Sunday night for a special prime-time edition of NBC's "Weekend" newfeature program particularly its 10-minute segment on Holland's unusual 70,000-member army.

Not only is the army unionized, its fighting men are allowed to wear their hair long, really long.

As reporter Peter Jeffries says of the hair apparent, "It would cause a Marine top sergeant total apoplexy if he saw it."

And probably even make his white sidewalls curl.

Group Shuns Showdown With State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio social service agencies, eager to get an extra $72 million available under Title XX of the Social Security Act, apparently have turned away from a showdown with the state.

At a recent meeting, some representatives of agencies urged a federal court suit to block the state plan to make only $55.3 million available. Other representatives, a majority, disposed of that suggestion rapidly.

A court suit would shut off all funds, they cried.

Under Title XX, families making between $11,238 and $16,155 a year could receive subsidized day care and help in finding housing and jobs. For those earning less than $11,238, the services would be free.

But, state proposes to give no subsidized aid and free help only to those making less than $5,000 a year.

Only $55.3 million would be forthcoming under the state's proposal. Expansion of eligibility to $16,155 would mean $127 million in federal funds, the social service agencies said.

The extra money, agency representatives said, is needed to help the working poor who are keeping off welfare by the skin of their teeth.

Finally, the about 50 agency representatives at the meeting in Ohio AFL-CIO headquarters in Columbus agreed on three paragraphs of a letter to be written to Gov. James A. Rhodes expressing concern and dismay over the state plan.

Thirty of the 50 agreed to sign the letter.

They laid plans to reconvene after the state's final plan is published Oct. 1.

The State Personnel Board of Review has laid down a precedent that may lead to a tougher line in handling strikes against state agencies.

Joseph Ashley, assistant director for public relations of the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, offered that prospect in discussing the board's decision upholding the firing of 24 workers at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville.

The board upheld the firing of employees who missed work last May and who also impeded other employees' attempts to enter the institution.

"We thought the board's action supported our contention that people who are absent and interfere with the operation of the institution can be fired," Ashley said.

"For a long time before it was felt that there couldn't be anything done about it. 'The board action shows, yes, you can get him off the payroll if he interferes with the operation,' Ashley said, referring to a striker.

"I think the decision might be helpful if we face that kind of situation in the future."

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Union officials charged that mental patients at Longview State Hospital live in filth and are subjected to inhumane treatment, but state officials said efforts are underway to correct the situation.

Thomas S. Grogan Jr., named superintendent a month ago, said he was aware of the problem. He vowed the correct the problems as soon as possible at the state facility in Cincinnati.

John Quigley, president of Local 6600, Communications Workers of America representing 325 employees at the institution, said he called a news conference after receiving a reprimand for writing a letter about the situation to Dr. Timothy Moritz, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Retardation.

"My only response was a letter of reprimand," charged Quigley. He said the letter accused him of spending unauthorized time on union business.

Quigley, a psychiatric aide in the facility with 1,400 patients and 1,000 employees, displayed a jar containing roaches he said came from the kitchen, and several photographs he said depicted dirty conditions inside the wards.

"This is what we live in," said Quigley.

"We have been watching the field of mental health increasingly in the past few months," said Herschel Sigall, state CWA staff representative.

"It is one of continuing deterioration. And one of the prime offenders is Longview."

The union presented a list of problems at the hospital which include:

- Geriatric patients eating not only their food, but also the plates and plastic spoons that come with the food.

- Patients being transported and transferred in unheated trucks that are called ambulances.
- Doctors not being available when needed.
- Injections being given by persons—including Quigley—who have

Ohio Tax Chief Gerald Collins Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Gerald S. Collins died late Thursday after being hospitalized for cancer, a spokesman at Riverside Hospital said.

Collins was 36 and the youngest member of Gov. James A. Rhodes' 21-member cabinet.

He was hospitalized several weeks ago for what he believed was a gall bladder ailment.

Collins of Columbus first joined Rhodes' staff in 1964 as deputy assistant to the governor during Collins' last year in law school.

Collins was named Rhodes' deputy tax commissioner in 1968. He served under Rhodes during the governor's first two terms from 1963-71.

When Rhodes left office in 1971, Collins entered private law practice and later became secretary to the Ohio Water Development Authority and chairman of the Ohio Air Quality Development Authority.

He quit his post with the air quality agency to become tax commissioner in January 1975.

not been trained.

- Wards, auditorium and therapy rooms that are not airconditioned while the doctor's offices are.
- "Yes, we have cockroaches just as any large institution does," replied Grogan. "We have a big problem. But I intend to shape this hospital up, and my primary mission always is to help patients."

During his service as tax commissioner, Collins became involved in a donnybrook with state Auditor Thomas Ferguson over the auditor's right to inspect state personal income tax returns.

Collins contended Ferguson did not have the authority to make spot checks of the returns. The commissioner took Ferguson to court and blocked him from investigating the returns.

Early in 1975 Collins vehemently argued against a bill that would have given state sales tax breaks to persons who purchased motor vehicles. The bill was introduced into the state legislature during the 1975 recession in an attempt to aid the sagging auto industry.

But Collins contended the tax break would do little to stimulate the industry and cost the state valuable tax dollars.

Rhodes, bowing to pressure from the auto sales industry and the United Auto Workers Union, backed the bill. The General Assembly bought Collins' argument, however, and refused to grant sales tax exemptions for vehicle purchases.

As chief of the tax department, Collins headed a 1,200-man staff.

He was born in Grantsville, Va., and received bachelor's and law degrees from Ohio State University.

See Rhodes Petitions As Valid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The secretary of state indicated today that four constitutional amendments for the November ballot initiated by Gov. James A. Rhodes would be voted on this fall.

Rhodes headed a petition drive to bypass the General Assembly which failed to approve his request for a four-point economic package to "make Ohio the finest state in the union."

The Committee for Jobs and Progress circulated petitions for four issues that Rhodes wanted on the ballot.

The issues include:

- $2.75 billion for capital improvement projects throughout the state, including more than $1.6 billion in direct grants to all Ohio cities, funded by a seven-tenths of a cent increase in the sales tax.
- A $1.75 billion bond package for transportation projects, funded by a nine-tenths of a cent increase in the state gasoline tax.
- A program for 30-year tax abatements for industries locating or expanding in Ohio, particularly in the inner cities.
- A program allowing direct loans by the state for housing construction and mortgage financing.

Brooks-Yates Announces Free, Reduced Meals Policy

The Mental Retardation Board of Brooks-Yates School today announced its policy for free meals and free milk and for reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility: a sliding scale which begins at an income level of $3230 for free meals and milk for a family of one to $6260 for a family of four to $9790 for a family of eight, etc. Reduced price meals begin at $4520 for a family of one.

Children from families whose income is at or below the authorized levels are eligible for free meals and free milk or for reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the administrator's office. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be

Cyclist Hurt In Wreck

A 26-year-old Washington C. H. man was admitted to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, for severe lacerations, abrasions and possible fractured left leg when he was involved in a car-cyclist accident, 1:40 p.m. Thursday.

According to the report taken by Sheriff's Deputy Larry Kellenberger, Albert A. Hodge, 26, WCH, was northeast on Route 62 when Emery R. Green, 70, Harrisburg, pulled from a stop position at High Street onto 62 into his path.

Hodge was thrown from the cycle across the hood of Green's vehicle and landed in the roadway in front of a car which was stopped at the intersection, driven by Mary A. Massie, 35, Mt. Sterling.

Deputy Kellenberger cited Green for failure to yield the right of way.

Seventeen-year-old Scott L. Shadwick, Commercial Point, was cited for reckless operation and driving an unsafe vehicle when he was involved in a single-car accident, 11:45 a.m. Thursday.

Shadwick, northbound on Cyrus Street, failure to negotiate a curve at the intersection of Cyrus and Assyrian Streets and traveled off the right berm into a private drive and struck a street sign.

The Deputy noted that Shadwick's right front rear tires were bald.

3 Persons Die In Avondale Fire

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A mother and two of her children died early today in a fire at their Avondale home, authorities reported.

Fire officials said Marian Reilly, 34, her son Billy, 10, and her daughter Sandy Anderson, 13, died as a result of the blaze which caused an estimated $9,000 damage.

Another daughter, Edie Anderson, 6, ran next door to warn neighbors of the fire, but firemen were unable to reach the three persons upstairs.

Police said the three apparently died of smoke inhalation.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Rock Festival Banned By Court

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—A planned week-long rock music festival scheduled to start today on a farm near Bethel has been stopped with an injunction issued by Clermont County Common Pleas Judge Louis Schwartz.

"You did it at your own risk. You should have known better," Schwartz told promoters Thursday after they said they had already spent $17,000.

The county refused to issue a permit because zoning laws permit no other use of agricultural property.

Longview Patients Living In Filth?

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Union officials charged that mental patients at Longview State Hospital live in filth and are subjected to inhumane treatment, but state officials said efforts are underway to correct the situation.

Thomas S. Grogan Jr., named superintendent a month ago, said he was aware of the problem. He vowed the correct the problems as soon as possible at the state facility in Cincinnati.

John Quigley, president of Local 6600, Communications Workers of America representing 325 employees at the institution, said he called a news conference after receiving a reprimand for writing a letter about the situation to Dr. Timothy Moritz, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Retardation.

"My only response was a letter of reprimand," charged Quigley. He said the letter accused him of spending unauthorized time on union business.

Quigley, a psychiatric aide in the facility with 1,400 patients and 1,000 employees, displayed a jar containing roaches he said came from the kitchen, and several photographs he said depicted dirty conditions inside the wards.

"This is what we live in," said Quigley.

"We have been watching the field of mental health increasingly in the past few months," said Herschel Sigall, state CWA staff representative.

"It is one of continuing deterioration. And one of the prime offenders is Longview."

The union presented a list of problems at the hospital which include:

—Geriatric patients eating not only their food, but also the plates and plastic spoons that come with the food.

—Patients being transported and transferred in unheated trucks that are called ambulances.

—Doctors not being available when needed.

—Injections being given by persons—including Quigley—who have

Ohio Tax Chief Gerald Collins Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Tax Commissioner Gerald S. Collins died late Thursday after being hospitalized for cancer, a spokesman at Riverside Hospital said.

Collins was 36 and the youngest member of Gov. James A. Rhodes' 21-member cabinet.

He was hospitalized several weeks ago for what he believed was a gall bladder ailment.

Collins of Columbus first joined Rhodes' staff in 1964 as deputy assistant to the governor during Collins' last year in law school.

Collins was named Rhodes' deputy tax commissioner in 1968. He served under Rhodes during the governor's first two terms from 1963-71.

When Rhodes left office in 1971, Collins entered private law practice and later became secretary to the Ohio Water Development Authority and chairman of the Ohio Air Quality Development Authority.

He quit his post with the air quality agency to become tax commissioner in January 1975.

not been trained.

—Wards, auditorium and therapy rooms that are not airconditioned while the doctor's offices are.

"Yes, we have cockroaches just as any large institution does," replied Grogan. "We have a big problem. But I intend to shape this hospital up, and my primary mission always is to help patients."

During his service as tax commissioner, Collins became involved in a donnybrook with state Auditor Thomas Ferguson over the auditor's right to inspect state personal income tax returns.

Collins contended Ferguson did not have the authority to make spot checks of the returns. The commissioner took Ferguson to court and blocked him from investigating the returns.

Early in 1975 Collins vehemently argued against a bill that would have given state sales tax breaks to persons who purchased motor vehicles. The bill was introduced into the state legislature during the 1975 recession in an attempt to aid the sagging auto industry.

But Collins contended the tax break would do little to stimulate the industry and cost the state valuable tax dollars.

Rhodes, bowing to pressure from the auto sales industry and the United Auto Workers Union, backed the bill. The General Assembly bought Collins' argument, however, and refused to grant sales tax exemptions for vehicle purchases.

As chief of the tax department, Collins headed a 1,200-man staff.

He was born in Grantsville, Va., and received bachelor's and law degrees from Ohio State University.

die on Ohio highways during the 3 1/4 day Labor Day Weekend . . .

Adding to the grim statistics are the 12 fatalities which have occurred in Pickaway County in 1975 bringing that total even with that of 1974 . . .

If you plan on extensive traveling during the weekend, whether to the Ohio State Fair, a picnic or family get-together, please allow plenty of traveling time . . . Also, obey the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit; if you get tired while driving, stop and rest; if you drink, don't drive . . .

Don't become a statistic, have a safe weekend.

THE annual band preview is scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight at the Circleville High School Football Field rain or not . . . Roundtowners will hear the sound of the CHS Tiger Marching Band under the direction of Paul King and the Junior High Tiger Marching Band, directed by Clifford Kerns . . .

Football fans will also be introduced to Coach Larry Cook and the Tiger Football Team . . .

See Rhodes Petitions As Valid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— The secretary of state indicated today that four constitutional amendments for the November ballot initiated by Gov. James A. Rhodes would be voted on this fall.

Rhodes headed a petition drive to bypass the General Assembly which failed to approve his request for a four-point economic package to "make Ohio the finest state in the union."

The Committee for Jobs and Progress circulated petitions for four issues that Rhodes wanted on the ballot.

The issues include: —$2.75 billion for capital improvement projects throughout the state, including more than $1.6 billion in direct grants to all Ohio cities, funded by a seven-tenths of a cent increase in the sales tax.

—A $1.75 billion bond package for transportation projects, funded by a nine-tenths of a cent increase in the state gasoline tax.

—A program for 30-year tax abatements for industries locating or expanding in Ohio, particularly in the inner cities.

—A program allowing direct loans by the state for housing construction and mortgage financing.

Brooks-Yates Announces Free, Reduced Meals Policy

The Mental Retardation Board of Brooks-Yates School today announced its policy for free meals and free milk and for reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility: a sliding scale which begins at an income level of $3230 for free meals and milk for a family of one to $6260 for a family of four to $9790 for a family of eight, etc. Reduced price meals begin at $4520 for a family of one.

Children from families whose income is at or below the authorized levels are eligible for free meals and free milk or for reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the administrator's office. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the Program Administrator will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Dr. William A. Myers, Board Chairman, whose address is 560 Lawnwood Ct., Circleville, Ohio 43113, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure. A complete copy of the policy is on file in the office of Brooks-Yates School where it may be reviewed by any interested party.
